CHICAGO (AP)—The destroyer escort USS Daniel A. Joy, flagship of the Navy's "cornbelt fleet" on the Great Lakes, will leave Chicago Saturday on her final journey.

The aging, grey-hulled warship, which has had a 15-year duty tour in the Great Lakes, is headed for deactivation at the Philadelphia Naval Shipyard.

The 1,450-ton Joy, largest Navy warship assigned to the Great Lakes, will be replaced in mid-June by the destroyer escort USS Parle, which has never anti-submarine warfare equipment.

The Joy, a veteran of World War II action in the Atlantic and Pacific, has been operating in the Great Lakes as a training ship for Naval reservists.

The ship will pass through the St. Lawrence Seaway on her final cruise. She is scheduled to arrive at Philadelphia April 27.

During her Great Lakes tour of duty, the Joy steamed more than 15,000 miles each year making sailors out of reservists on weekend and two-week cruises.

More than 250,000 visitors have toured the ship in ports throughout the Great Lakes.

Among ports she visited were Muskegon, Bay City, Escanaba, Sault Ste. Marie, Benton Harbor, Port Huron, Marquette, Detroit and Traverse City, Mich.

Satellite Loops Around Earth

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Early Bird satellite, already a proven handler of television signals, looped the earth today in readiness for a maneuver to push it toward its permanent roost in space.

Communications Satellite Corp. engineers planned to fire small gas jets designed to guide the world's first commercial communications satellite to a point over the Atlantic between Brazil and South Africa.

A small kick-motor then will be fired Friday morning over South America to direct the satellite into a circular orbit 22,300 miles high.

There its speed will match the earth's rotation, making it appear stationary in the sky.

Money Measure Sent To Romney

LANSING (AP)—On its way to Gov. George Romney for signature today was a $6.8 million bill to finance state government from now until June 30.

The supplemental appropriations bill for the balance of the current fiscal year cleared its last legislative milestone Wednesday when the House agreed to a conference committee version of the bill.

The Senate had agreed Tuesday to the conference version of the beforesaid bill which had grown about $1.3 million since it left the Senate for the House the first time.

The bill includes $1.45 million for expenses of the increased legislative staff and the relocation of agencies formerly housed in the Capitol.

Nearly $1.5 million goes in to school grants and $780,000 helps meet unexpected increases in junior college enrollment.

Rights Workers Get In Gunfight At Bogalusa, La.

BOGALUSA, La. (AP)—A gun duel between civil rights workers and unidentified men erupted early today in this paper-mill town, where national Negro leader James Farmer is scheduled to speak tonight.

Police said their investigation showed a brick was thrown from a car and several shots fired, with no injuries and damage—if any—undetermined.

Civil rights workers, however, described it as a brick gunfight with the Ku Klux Klan.

William J. Yates of Buffalo, N.Y., a white field worker for Farmer's Congress of Racial Equality, said there were two waves of attackers firing at the house in which he and other CORE workers are staying.

Yates said the attacks stopped after Asst. Police Chief L. C. Terrell, carrying a submachine gun, arrived at the scene with four officers.

Prince Bernhard Gives Address At Hope College

HOLLAND (AP)—Approximately 1,300 persons are expected Saturday at Hope College for an address by Prince Bernhard of The Netherlands on "international understanding and individual responsibility."

The visit by Prince Bernhard is part of a tour in which he will dedicate a 200-year-old windmill removed from his country by special permission for restoration here.

Accompanying the prince on his third visit to this west Michigan city will be Dr. Carl W. A. Schumann, The Netherlands ambassador to the United States.

Prince Bernhard is scheduled Friday to attend an honors convocation at University of Michigan and receive the honorary degree, doctor of civil law.

He travels to Detroit for a speaking engagement Sunday.

Viet Cong Make Threat To Shoot U.S. Aid Envoy

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—The South Vietnamese government announced today it had postponed the trial of one of the terrorists who bombed the U.S. Embassy. The Viet Cong had threatened to shoot an American captive if the bomber was executed.

Saigon authorities said the trial of Nguyen Van Thai, 33, was postponed indefinitely.

Hanoi Radio broadcast a communique Wednesday from the Viet Cong's political agency, the National Liberation Front, saying if Thai was executed, Gustav C. Hertz, a U.S. aid mission official missing since Feb. 2, also would die.

The broadcast made no reference to the execution, scheduled today, of Le Dau, 24, admitted Communist agent arrested Sunday night at Da Nang. He was caught in a hotel with a

Police Pool Data On Slayings Of 3 Women And Girl

BENTON HARBOR (AP)—Police from many areas of southwestern Michigan spent several hours in a meeting here Wednesday, pooling information about the slayings of three women and a 7-year-old girl.

Officers said no new information had turned up during the day.

The work of checking hundreds of tips and leads began after the discovery of the mutilated bodies of Diane Carter, 7, Mrs. Olin Boyer, 60, and Mrs. Robert Jones, 37, last Sunday.

Officers are convinced there is a connection between the deaths of the three and the earlier discovery of the nude body of Delores Young, 19, in a burned house here.

The state police crime laboratory continued attempts to identify the owner of several pieces of men's clothing found in the same area as the three bodies.

Fire At NAACP Officer's Home Is Investigated

BENTON HARBOR (AP)—The state fire marshal's office was scheduled to begin investigating today the fire which destroyed a house belonging to Will Branscomb, president of the Benton Harbor chapter of the NAACP.

The fire occurred Wednesday. Branscomb and his family moved out of the house after it was partially destroyed by fire Feb. 11. Authorities said the February fire may have been caused by faulty wiring.

A neighbor told firemen Wednesday she heard a noise shortly after she discovered the blaze. She said she saw a man run from the house and drive away.

ades were lifted because of the U.S. challenge or whether the Communists had planned a shutdown of only three hours. That was the length of the closure Wednesday.

The U.S. convoy was being processed at the Communist checkpoints for the trip to West Berlin when all traffic was allowed to resume.

Today was the fourth successive day the Communists had closed the autobahn.

Backed by the Soviets, East German guards at 9 a.m. closed the steel barriers at each end of the superhighway between West Berlin and West Germany. They lifted them three hours later.

In the interim at 11 a.m., a 22-vehicle U.S. Army convoy drove up to the Helmstedt checkpoint, at the West German end, and its commander demanded to be allowed through. The Soviets held it up for 20 minutes, then waved it into the half-mile-long checkpoint for processing by East German guards.

The Reds reopened the autobahn while the convoy was still being checked.

The West Berlin end of the highway was reopened at the same time, freeing a small U.S. truck convoy which had traveled 14 miles from West Berlin toward West German territory when the autobahn was closed.

That convoy contained three trucks and six men.

Johnson Opens Door For Viet Nam Peace

Battle Kills 200 Guerrillas

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—U.S. officials claimed today that up to 200 Viet Cong guerrillas were killed Wednesday night in a major battle with Vietnamese marines in Binh Dinh Province, about 320 miles northeast of Saigon.

Five South Vietnamese were reported killed and 25 wounded. There were no American casualties, the Americans said.

It was the second major success claimed this week in the ground war against the Communists. U.S. officials reported Wednesday that 276 Viet Cong were killed and 33 captured in a three-day battle in the Mekong River delta 130 miles southwest of Saigon. Six Americans and 16 South Vietnamese soldiers died in that battle.

St. Lawrence Seaway Opens

MASSENA, N.Y. (AP)—The St. Lawrence Seaway opens today for its seventh full season amid forecasts for record cargo movement and ice conditions expected to cause some disruption in the early flow of traffic.

The opening equals last year's April 8 opening, earliest in Seaway history.

The Winnipeg Lake, a 750-foot Canadian vessel loaded with nearly a million bushels of grain, was expected to lead the downstream procession through the Eisenhower Lock here. The Winnipeg Lake is one of 18 vessels awaiting the opening at Prescott, Ont., opposite Ogdensburg. Eleven vessels were scheduled to move toward the Great Lakes, from St. Lambert's Lock at Montreal.

Joseph H. McCann, administrator of the St. Lawrence Seaway Development Corp., said cargo tonnage in 1965 was expected to surpass last year's record 393 million tons.

The inland waterway was reported navigable between Montreal and the Welland Canal, linking Lakes Erie and Ontario.

Lobbyist Group From UM Goes To Washington

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Five University of Michigan faculty members left today for Washington, D. C., to "lobby" with state congressmen for a change in U. S. policies in Viet Nam.

The five, Marc H. Ross, Leo Stodolsky, William A. Gamson, Marshall D. Sahlin and Arnold Kaufman, were to join some 50 instructors from around the country in the nationwide "protest move."

Meanwhile, half-page advertisements appeared Wednesday in the Ann Arbor News and the Michigan Daily, U-M student newspaper. Sponsored by the "Michigan Faculty Committee for Peace in Viet Nam" and signed by 300 persons, the ads called for a negotiated truce in the Southeast Asian nation.

Chute Fall Fatal To Gen. Hester

WIESBADEN, Germany (AP)—Maj. Gen. John K. Hester, commander of the U.S. 17th Air Force, died today of brain damage suffered in a parachute jump. Hester, 48, had been in a coma since the accident April 2.

Hester was injured when he landed with a partly inverted chute after jumping from an altitude of 1,250 feet.

Doctors performed emergency surgery to relieve pressure and remove a clot from the brain's surface, but Hester never regained consciousness.

Hester had attended jump school to better understand the Air Force role in providing support for the Army.

The fatal jump was the final one in a series of five. A native of Plains, Mont., Hester is survived by his widow, Helen, and two children, Virginia and John K. III.

Midwest Floods Evict Thousands

By The Associated Press

Destructive flood waters spilled over widespread areas of the Midwest today. Thousands of persons sought shelter as their homes were filled with water.

Two persons were killed Wednesday in a southern Minnesota rain storm and two children were missing after they were seen playing near the swollen Battle Creek River in Minnesota's Ramsey County.

An estimated 1,000 persons have been forced from their homes in several Iowa areas. Dozens of communities were in danger of their creeping flood waters.

Officials said flood damage in Cherokee, a town of 8,500 in northwestern Iowa could exceed $2 million.

The Weather Bureau forecast up to 1 inch of rain by Friday. Cherokee was struck when the Little Sioux River surged to 27.1 feet, before dropping to 25 feet Wednesday. Flood stage is 17 feet.

Northeastern Iowa battled the rampaging Cedar River. Central Iowa was hard pressed to hold back the Des Moines River.

Some residential and business areas in the Waterloo-Cedar Falls vicinity were under water. An estimated 100 homes were evacuated in southwestern Fort Dodge.

The Red Cross said it was caring for 135 persons in shelters in Cherokee, Webster City, Marshalltown and Waterloo, and for 346 flood victims in several other cities.

April rains which struck large portions of the country Wednesday, mixed with mild temperatures, melted the remnants of some deep snowpacks, filling rivers and streams to overflowing.

Generally clear weather favored conditions in flooded portions of Minnesota, but new snow fell on top of the deep old snow cover along the Canadian border area, increasing the flood danger.

The Red Cross said about 500 families had been evacuated in southern Minnesota and the figure was expected to jump to 3,200 within the next few days, when more rivers begin rising in southeastern Minnesota and southwestern Wisconsin.

Jobless Rate Is Lowest Since Last December

DETROIT (AP)—A seasonal upturn in business activity plus the return of striking workers to their jobs accounted for Michigan's lowest unemployment rate since last December, the Michigan Employment Security Commission said Wednesday.

Unemployment was down to 115,000, or 3.8 per cent of the labor force for the month ending March 15. It compared with 4.3 per cent for the preceding 30-day period and with 5.3 per cent a year ago, according to Thomas Roumell, MESC director.

Democrats Push Health Care Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—House Democratic leaders, ignoring Republican charges of "rubber stamp," press today for passage by nightfall of a $6-billion health care-Social Security bill.

Republicans concentrated their efforts on a preliminary vote, expected late today, on substituting for the bill President Johnson backs one introduced by Rep. John W. Byrnes, R-Wis.

The Byrnes bill is similar in most respects to the administration measure, but would not provide payroll tax increases to finance a hospital benefit for the aged. Instead, the bill would provide higher payments by participants and general Treasury subsidy.

Democrats, however, said they have the votes to pass the administration version overwhelmingly.

"The Congress of the United States has become a rubber stamp," Rep. Thomas B. Curtis, R-Mo., said Wednesday in a speech complaining that the bill had not been given adequate airing in public hearings.

Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, defended the bill against charges that it would impair professionalism in medical practice.

Rep. Durward G. Hall, R-Mo., a physician, said it would lead to destruction of the doctor-patient relationship and overcrowding of hospitals.

But Mills said the committee had taken pains to prevent any government infringement on traditional professional practices, requiring in the bill that a private agency, such as Blue Shield, be engaged to handle relations with the medical profession.

"There is no intention whatever to tell doctors what they may charge a patient, or to tell a patient to go to Dr. X rather than Dr. Y," Mills insisted.

The legislation, which would accomplish the greatest single expansion of Social Security since the system was established, would provide hospitalization for all those 65 and older, with the patient paying the first $40; an optional $3-a-month plan of health insurance for doctors' bills and incidentals; a 7 per cent increase in old age Social Security payments and enlargement and liberalization of programs of federally aided state medical help for the needy.

Penalty Sought For 'Bombers' On State Freeways

America Ready To Negotiate, President Says

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson says the United States is ready — without preconditions — to sit down at the bargaining table with the Communists to try to negotiate an end to the war in Viet Nam.

And even before any peace talks start, the President said Wednesday night in a major foreign policy address, the United States is prepared to initiate a massive cooperative economic development program for all of Southeast Asia, including Communist North Viet Nam.

As a starter, Johnson told the nation by radio and television from Johns Hopkins University in Baltimore, he will ask Congress to authorize a $1-billion American investment in the program.

Soviets Invited

He proposed that U.N. Secretary-General U Thant launch the plan, invited all industrialized countries including the Soviet Union to join and said he is naming a special team of prominent Americans headed by Eugene Black, former president of the World Bank, to guide U.S. participation.

But while showing the Communist world the carrot, the President did not forget the stick.

He said of U.S. involvement in the war at the side of South Viet Nam: "We will not withdraw, either openly or under the cloak of a meaningless agreement."

And while he said the United States is unconditionally ready to discuss peace, he said: "Such peace demands an independent South Viet Nam — securely guaranteed and able to shape its own relationships to all others — free from outside interference — tied to no alliance — a military base for no country. "These are the essentials of any final settlement."

Johnson said there are many approaches to a peaceful settlement of the war, that old agreements may have to be reaffirmed or strengthened with new ones.

"We have stated this position over and over again 50 times and more to friend and foe alike," he said. "And we remain ready — with this purpose — for unconditional discussions."

The estimated 1,200 people in the university's Shriver Hall auditorium interrupted the speech 15 times with applause. Mrs. Johnson studied her husband intently; Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey beamed his approval.

With them on the platform were Mrs. Humphrey and the Johnsons' daughters, Lynda and Luci. All motored the 40 miles from the capital by limousine when overcast skies forced cancellation of a planned helicopter flight.

Dirksen Critical

In New York a spokesman for Thant said the secretary-general planned to study the speech carefully and would have some comment this morning.

On Capitol Hill, Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen, heretofore a staunch supporter of the Democratic President's Viet Nam policy, was critical. "Is this another case of where the American trumpets sound retreat?" he asked. "Do you buy freedom for a humble people? I doubt it."

But the Senate Democratic leader, Mike Mansfield, at times in disagreement with the White House over Viet Nam, said: "The door is open to a bona fide settlement which will permit the people of Viet Nam to live in peace and freedom."

There was no immediate public reaction behind the Iron Curtain.

Hours before the President spoke, though, Soviet President Anastas I. Mikoyan and First Deputy Premier Kirill Mazurov were asked in Moscow by a Pakistani newsman what should be done to bring peace to Viet Nam.

The two Soviets said, separately, the United States must withdraw.

Kallman Moves Fuel Bulk Plant

Plans for the removal of a fuel bulk storage and distribution station to a new location and the construction of an office building on Escanaba's north side were announced today by John T. Kallman.

Kallman has been with Sinclair Refining Co. at 530 Stephenson Ave. for the past 20 years as distributor, and for three years prior was employed at the plant.

A permit for the removal of the bulk plant, which Kallman has purchased, and the construction of a new office building at 616 N. 16th St. has been approved by the city.

The new site covers four lots and will be the location for four bulk tanks with a storage capacity of 60,000 gallons, the warehouse which is 28 by 50 feet, and the new office building 16 by 24 feet. All but the office building are structures on the present site.

"There will be all new fittings for the plant and the new office will relieve the space shortage in the warehouse," said Kallman. "The bulk plant has been at its present location for 27 years."

Kallman bought the plant and will move it and develop it on the new site as a private venture. He will continue as Sinclair distributor. The move to the new location will begin as soon as possible—perhaps by May 10.

Kallman purchased four lots from the Escanaba & Lake Superior Railroad for the plant. The move was necessary after Coyne Chevrolet purchased the land on which the plant is presently located.

"We hope to have the move completed to the new site by June 15," Kallman said.

Hunters Spent $22.3 Million

Those red-coated hunters who stalked Michigan's famed white tail deer last November poured more than $22.3 million into the state's economy, according to a final tabulation by Central Michigan University.

The dollar impact of the 16-day season and interesting facts about Michigan deer hunters are part of a study of tourism and recreation by CMU's Center for Economic Expansion. The study is being conducted under a grant of $78,000 made by the Michigan Legislature.

Data obtained from interviews with 2,700 of the more than 545,000 persons who purchased Michigan deer hunting licenses in 1964 showed an average expenditure of $41 a person.

The hunters spent about $11.5 million for food, $3.9 million for transportation, $2.3 million in retail stores, $2.2 million for accommodations, $1.4 million for recreation and $1 million for miscellaneous items.

These figures do not include expenditures by non-licensed persons who accompanied deer hunters, or by the more than 44,000 bow and arrow hunters who purchased Michigan licenses last fall.

The typical deer hunting party included four persons who spent an average seven nights away from home. Male hunters outnumbered female hunters nearly eight to one.

Some 40 per cent stayed in private cottages and cabins and a like number in tents, trailers and camping units. Ten per cent rented cabins and cottages, and nearly seven per cent found shelter in motels and hotels.

Nearly all of the hunters traveled by car or truck. The most frequently stated reasons for selecting destinations were: "The deer hunting is good there," "Home of friends or relatives," "We visited the place previously and liked it," "It's the site of my cottage."

Although primarily interested in bagging a deer, a large number of hunters took part in a variety of other activities, including picture taking, souvenir shopping, boating, visits to historical sites, fishing, small game hunting, camping, rock hunting, golf and hiking.

Bluegill Loses As State Fish

LANSING (AP) — A fishy bill is up for Senate debate today.

Sponsored by Sen. Terry Trout, D-Romulus, it specifies the trout as the official state fish.

The House wrestled earlier this session with a fish-naming measure but referred the bill back to committee after bluegill supporters lost out.

Senate wags said the trout measure might be successful if Sens. Basis Brown, D-Highland Park, and Garry Brown, R-Schoolcraft, would lend their support on condition the brown trout be specified.

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — When Dewey Young went to work for the railroad, other employees jokingly told him, "Be good to your boss boy, he might be your boss some day."

Young retired recently after 42 years with the line, then got bored and applied for a job with the security police here.

He was accepted and went to work for Col. M. L. Gentry, a member of a railroad crew that Young once bossed.

IT IS NOT TRUE that a dog walking across the Mackinac Bridge could establish vibrations that would lead to the destruction of the span. But the question is one that is used to stimulate discussion in classrooms.

'Big Mac' Topic Of Many Queries

Although the Mackinac Bridge has been open to traffic for more than seven years, its novelty has not worn off as a source of school assignments. Requests for information about the bridge come in daily from students throughout the state, according to Prentiss M. Brown, chairman of the Mackinac Bridge Authority.

"Sometimes there is obviously an assignment to a student body to do some writing about the Mackinac Bridge, and we will receive a letter or card from each member of the class. We usually answer these requests with standard pieces of literature designed for that purpose."

"On other occasions graduate students will not only write for information, but will often come to St. Ignace to interview me and study our records in order to complete term papers or theses for degrees," said Brown.

Answer Is "No"

The Authority estimates that since the bridge was opened in November 1957 it has replied to more than 10,000 requests for information.

The most popular individual inquiry about the bridge is the question that may be worded as follows: "Is it true that a dog walking across the bridge could establish a vibration that would lead to the destruction of the span?"

The question apparently arises out of the theory that every structure has built within it the potential for certain harmonic vibrations which might reach destructive forces by virtually insignificant stimulation. Also, in the days of poorly designed bridges, marching soldiers were ordered to break step when parading across a bridge deck so as to avoid the pounding of an entire regiment's goose-stepping in unison.

Modern bridges are, of course immune to such forces. The live load on a bridge is insignificant compared to the weight of the bridge structure itself and

Models Grow Big

Many students and sometimes groups of students get the ambitious idea that they would like to build a scale model of the bridge. This is more easily said than done when one stops to realize that the steel structure alone is nearly four miles long and the towers, by comparison, only 552 feet high. This means that the height of the towers would have to be about one-thirty fifth of the length of the bridge and the width of the bridge one-two hundred seventy fifth of the length.

Actually, a precise scale model does exist but it was built by experts who required more than 5,000 man hours of skilled effort to do the job on a one-to-1,000 scale so that the model, which comes in three parts, is 25 feet long and housed in a plexiglass container two feet wide. Nevertheless, some students have made excellent efforts toward bridge model building and many of them have been quite accurate as well as artistic.

When the Verrazano-Narrows Bridge in New York was opened last November, the Authority was flooded with inquiries from all over the United States (mostly from former Michiganians) about whether or not the New York structure was larger than the Mackinac. In many respects it is; but in one major respect it is not. The total suspension span for the Verrazano-Narrows Bridge is 6,690 feet. The total suspension span for the Mackinac Bridge is 8,344 feet—1,654 feet longer and still champion.

Miller Family Routed By Fire

POWERS — The Spalding Township Volunteer Fire Department was called to a fire Wednesday at 5:18 a.m. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Miller.

Miller was awakened by the smell of smoke. In the basement he discovered flames coming from the air ducts. He hurried upstairs to wake his wife and together they gathered up their four small children, Donna, 2½, Marilyn, 5, Mike, 6 and Cindy, 7.

Smoke was already making its way up the stairs and none of their clothing could be saved except what they could take on the way. Today, two of the children are shoeless. But no one was hurt.

The two-story frame home is extensively damaged. The downstairs is badly charred. All of the furniture is burned except a television set which was on wheels and was pushed out of the house. The bed frames are in good condition but the mattresses and bedding are badly smoked. Mrs. Miller said that everything made of plastic was melted.

The Miller home is about three miles northwest of Powers on U.S. 2. There is insurance on the house. Miller is employed at the Menominee County Road Commission. At present they are living with his parents, Mrs. and Mrs. Frank Miller of Powers.

Two trucks were called to the fire and there were no injuries.

Air Force Blue Adorns Township Fire Volunteers

By DAVE ANDREWS

Volunteer fire departments in Delta County townships—wearing Air Force Blue instead of Firehouse Red—may be the best dressed firemen in the state.

Air Force uniforms, minus buttons and braid, are being issued to firemen as they are made available to Mason E. Johnson, Delta County director of civil defense.

Johnson, a former Air Force man himself, gets the uniforms from the Air Force ROTC program at Michigan Tech University, Houghton.

When ROTC students leave the Air Force program—some flunk out of school, others give up on ROTC — they are required to turn in their equipment. Service regulations prohibit reuse of uniforms to other servicemen, so, unless someone takes them off Air Force hands the returned uniforms must be destroyed.

This is where Johnson comes in.

Uniforms Are Free

"I made a visit to Houghton one day about a year ago," he said. "I was in the Air Force ROTC building when I noticed these uniforms being stripped. I was told they were going to be destroyed so I asked if I could get them through Civil Defense for distribution to volunteer fire departments."

"We get the uniforms—jackets, pants, hats and raincoats—for free," Johnson continued. "Volunteer firemen don't get any clothing allowances and don't get paid. These uniforms help give them a sort of esprit de corps."

Wives get into the act by sewing on buttons and making any modifications that are needed.

Size Problem

Johnson said the biggest problem in outfitting volunteer firemen is trying to fit middle-aged men into uniforms tailored for the slimmer-around-the-middle bodies of college youths.

"We get a lot of pants which measure 28 or 29 inches around the waist," he said. "There aren't many 40-year-olds who will ever see that size again."

Currently, all 22 men of the Bark River fire department have been outfitted with jackets. Some jackets also have been issued to Perkins firemen. Next in line are volunteers at Rock, Rapid River and Garden.

Be patient, though, men. Remember, there's a problem with the pants.

UNIFORMS which ROTC cadets at Michigan Tech University return when they leave school are being acquired by Mason Johnson, Delta County director of civil defense, for distribution to area volunteer fire departments. With Johnson here, trying on a uniform, is Herman Palmgren, chief of the Bark River Fire Department. The uniforms are stored in the Delta County building. (Daily Press photo)

Dollar Looking Much Healthier

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — The American dollar is looking a lot healthier than it did just weeks ago. It fetches more in exchange for other currencies. It buys more gold in the free market—meaning, the price of gold has dropped. More interest must be paid to borrow surplus dollars in Europe.

The big outflow of dollars in private capital ventures that alarmed the administration in the final months of 1964 and the first six weeks of 1965 is reported to have dropped to a trickle.

The question is: Will this turn for the better last?

Voluntary action by U.S. banks and corporations is credited with the early results. But most champions of this cooperative method of halting the flow agree that its results can only be temporary. The big problem of the U.S. balance of international payments deficit remains.

Flow Cut Down

A further complication in deciding the effectiveness at the moment is that the U.S. balance usually improves in the early months of any year.

Last year the first quarter deficit dropped so sharply that some optimists thought the problem had been licked. Then in the next three months the deficit mounted rapidly. It leveled off during the summer, but by the end of the year private capital and government funds were flowing out at an annual rate of $6.2 billion.

The first half of this year's opening quarter was just as bad. But since President Johnson asked U.S. banks and corporations to curb the outflow the dollar loss has been slight.

Deficit Reduced

The Treasury says that in 1964 U.S. bank lending to industrialized countries came to more than a billion dollars and that in the first six weeks of 1965 they crammed in another $500 million. Then on Feb. 10 the President asked for a halt. The Treasury says that in the following four weeks the flow of

Money Bill Gets OK In Lansing

LANSING (AP) — The Senate gave general assent Tuesday to the $6.8 million House version of a supplemental appropriations bill for the current fiscal year.

The extra-spending bill included $1.45 million for expenses of the legislature's increased staff and quarters and for its relocation of other agencies formerly housed in the capitol.

Nearly $1.5 million goes to bring school grants up to earlier-foreseen levels and $780,000 does the same for junior and community colleges.

Other major items in the bill include:

- $313,115 for the new Court of Appeals.
- $421,277 for care of tuberculosis patients.
- $200,000 for mental hospital drugs, medical, surgical and laboratory supplies.
- $150,000 for purchase of four lots in the Lansing capitol development area.
- $1 million for a power plant addition and alteration at Kalamazoo State Hospital.
- $191,000 for three construction projects at Ionia State Hospital and Ionia Reformatory.

The United States minted a two-cent piece from 1864 to 1873.

Price Inflation Hits Norway

OSLO, Norway (AP) — Norwegian housewives plagued by increasing prices take a trip abroad to save household money.

Thousands of them make the 24-hour round-trip voyage to neighboring Denmark to stock up on the vastly cheaper Danish foodstuffs.

The solution is available only to those Norwegians within easy reach of the southern ports, however.

Most of the 3½ million population must struggle for economic survival in a price-wage inflationary spiral.

The price index, on which wage adjustments are decided, has soared from 100 in 1959 to 120.8 today. There has just been another round of wage increases with some salaried workers getting hikes of 10 per cent.

The foodstuff index — 100 in 1959 — rose to 121 last December. The meat index rose to 126 and the fish index soared to 136. Fish is one of the most important factors in every Norwegian's diet.

Norway's income tax is graduated progressively, so wage increases shrink as the earnings rise. This makes many higher-paid employees prefer fringe

Social Honors Library Group At Rapid River

RAPID RIVER—A recognition social was held in honor of Rapid River Library's volunteers Sunday evening at St. Charles Parish Hall. The serving table centerpiece was a decorative Easter egg tree complemented by lighted candles and the silver service.

Mrs. Waldon Johnson, Jr., president, honored the volunteers for their hours of library service. Mrs. Kenneth Proehl presented appreciation gifts to the volunteers. Mrs. William Vietzke, Mrs. Sarah Bjurman, Mrs. Charles Doonan, and Mrs. Clifford Noble were cited for their outstanding service. The Rev. John Vincent Suhr, pastor of St. Charles Borromeo church, was presented a welcome mat for the parish hall. St. Charles parish hall houses the Rapid River Library.

Carol Bowen, sophomore at Rapid River High School, gave two narrative readings entitled, "Pied Piper of Hamelin" and "The Highwayman." Ruth and Regina Olson dressed in little girl costumes sang, "Because Him Is A Baby" accompanied by their sister, Karen. Entertainment arrangements were made by Mrs. Thomas Safford.

Following the entertainment lunch was served with Debbie Beck and Esther Bascik, hostessing the serving table.

Mr. and Mrs. John Miller of Rapid River have returned from a trip to Martez, Calif. The Millers son Richard and his family live in Martez. While the Millers were at their son's home, they were presented a new grandson.

Henry Nelson of Grosse Pointe Farms, formerly of Rapid River, returned to his home after a visit with his father, William Nelson. William Nelson has recently entered the Swedish Lutheran Home in Marinette.

A family's "distaff side" refers to the female branch, as opposed to the "spear side" or male branch, according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica.

Canada Grows

The similarity of Canada and the Upper Peninsula of Michigan is often remarked. They are both highly mineralized, both forested, both "northern" in climate, both very sparse in population—Canada only 19 millions and the U.P. contributing only 305,000 of Michigan's more than 8 million.

The parallels of similarity between the U.P. and Canada are sometimes carried into speculation why their economies do not advance similarly, but the things that make economies are, of course, quite dissimilar in the two areas.

The Canadian Sault, for instance, has had a steadily expanding economy and population growth while the economy of the American Sault, just across the St. Mary's River, has been in deepening trouble from loss of industrial base.

While the United States has been looking to Canada as a place for industrial investment, it has not been giving the Upper Peninsula of Michigan, which offers some of the same opportunities, the same regard, except in the matter of mineral industry, which has had substantial development under the leadership of the Cleveland Cliffs Iron Co. and Hannah Mining Co.

But hark to these impressive statistics from the Atlantic Magazine on the great growth north of the border:

Canadian gross national product in 1964 was expected to increase 6 per cent and grow an amazing 8 per cent.

Farm income was up 30 per cent.
The labor force was at an all time high and unemployment was below 5 per cent.

All the provinces forecast a continued upward trend this year, but at a slightly slower pace.

The world's biggest potash development has $300 million of construction going in Saskatchewan.

The huge Columbia River project is starting preliminary work in British Columbia.

Alberta's gas and oil industry is increasing.

The biggest thing in Canada's future is proposal that it export its fresh water down to the Great Plains, California and Mexico.

While the Upper Peninsula seeks the means of expanding its economy it notes that most of the growth in Canada isn't Canadian, but American. The Financial Post of Canada reports that while Canadians controlled 65 per cent of Canadian manufacturing in 1926, they control only 41 per cent today and the United States, which controlled only 30 per cent in '26 now controls 45 per cent. American firms control 52 per cent of Canadian mining and smelting.

More than 80 per cent of Canadian minerals are fed to plants outside the country. The Financial Post says "The outlook, based on capacity of existing mines, is that Canada is well disposed to supply world metal markets for many years to come. Canada's federal and provincial governments have been tending to make mining legislation more liberal, to increase inducements to exploration and development that already have made Canada highly attractive to foreign resource developers and investors."

In wood industry too Canada is expanding impressively and this is an area of special interest in the Upper Peninsula with its large and growing volume of wood production. (The American Sault, which looks across the St. Mary's to the Algoma Steel mills also looks across to the huge mill of Abitibi Power & Paper Co. Ltd.)

Canada's pulp and paper industry has a $1 billion expansion program underway to meet world demand for pulp and paper, which is expected to double in the next decade. Value of output by the Canadian paper industry last year was $1.9 billion, with 90 per cent of its capacity in use. The 10 per cent gain was the largest in the industry's history. Wood pulp, newsprint, paperboard, fine papers, and wrappers all rose.

Leading the expansion race is British Columbia on the West Coast, where $650 million of expansion is planned or underway. Much of the new capacity will be kraft pulp for export by 1967 or 1968, with Canada planning annual production of 7 million tons of kraft or more compared with 3.8 million tons in 1964.

R. M. Fowler, president of the Canadian Pulp & Paper Association said: "The expansion is an indication of the growing value of the nation's forest resource. Some parts of the world are running short of wood to support the further expansion of their pulp and paper industry. This, fortunately, is not the case with Canada, and as a consequence her forests have become a magnet for capital investment from many parts of the world. It is significant that several companies which are becoming associated for the first time in Canadian pulp and paper production are large forest industry organizations from other parts of the world."

The economic development lesson here is clear: Develop the resource to attract investors.

What My Faith Means To Me

BY HUGO O. SHOENBERG
Calvary Lutheran Church
Rapid River

This is what my faith means to me.

The Lord God who created me also promised me salvation through my faith in the Lord Jesus Christ.

It also teaches me that all that I have and possess is not mine to keep but, use it to the glory of God as the Lord prospers so shall thou give.

It teaches me to give freely and humbly not from my surplus but from the first fruits and He will provide me with all the needs for body and soul.

It teaches me to do kind deeds, not to gain salvation but through my faith in my Lord and Saviour through whom these deeds are motivated.

Into His hands I commend my spirit, so that when He calls I may be with Him in everlasting glory. This I believe.

Play By Our Rules

By RAY CROMLEY

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — By coincidence, at this time when some people are advocating a treaty with the Communists on Viet Nam, a study of the history of treaties with Red dictatorships is now circulating among government policy makers.

The study warns:
● Beware of treaties that depend on "neutral" enforcement or inspection agencies. Experience has shown the Reds won't accept such "neutral" teams unless they include Communist representation. Then the Red members inevitably go all-out to subvert the team's ability either to enforce or inspect.

● Treaty violations aren't likely to be corrected satisfactorily through a coalition government which includes Communists. The Communist government officials will invariably work to take over or immobilize the government.

● World opinion can't be counted on to get a Communist dictatorship to stop violating a treaty. Democratic states may be sensitive to the pressures of public opinion. But self-contained powers with a controlled press can usually ignore the opinion of other states.

In particular, widespread disapproval will seldom, if ever, alienate the people of a violating nation from their government; more often than not the reverse will occur and the people of the offending nation will rally behind their government.

● Economic sanctions will rarely be effective in preventing treaty violations. They are almost certain to fail against major, self-contained powers.

● The concepts of truth, logic and precedent can be of little or no concern to Communists in their approach to treaty negotiations and compliance if these are not consistent with their national or ideological objectives. In negotiations with Communists, it is generally desirable to deal on a tough quid pro quo (something for something) basis.

● When a treaty is made with Communist countries, it is essential to be prepared to respond determinedly whenever the Reds violate the pact. The Communists would probably consider failure to respond to a violation as an invitation to go ahead and unilaterally modify the agreement to suit their fancy.

It is essential that this response to treaty violations be both speedy and effective and be carried out with a clear demonstration of U. S. will.

To assure this prompt and adequate response, detailed contingency planning should be undertaken on precisely what action should be taken when violation occurs.

The study concludes:
With the stakes so high, it is necessary to think seriously about the possible consequences of reliance on instruments so historically fragile as treaties have been.

Questions And Answers

Q—Is it true that the swallows arrive at the Mission of El Capistrano on the same day each year?

A—These swallows arrive regularly each spring, but certainly not always on a specific date.

Q—What is bonsai?

A—Bonsai is the art of dwarfing trees and training them to be replicas in everything but size of century-old specimens.

Q—How does the mouth of a bird differ from that of mammals?

A—The bill of a bird, corresponding roughly to mammal lips, is hard and dry and no bird has teeth.

Q—What two of our presidents died on the same day?

A—John Adams and Thomas Jefferson—July 4, 1826.

Q—What was the given name of President Eisenhower?

A—David Dwight Eisenhower. Later, he reversed his Christian names.

Q—What is the source of the inscription on the Liberty Bell?

A—"Proclaim liberty throughout all the land unto all the inhabitants thereof" is from the Bible—Leviticus, 25th chapter.

Q—Who was the Wizard of Menlo Park?

A—Thomas A. Edison.

Q—What salary did George Washington receive as our first president?

A—In his first inaugural address in New York City April 30, 1789, Washington apologized that he was "unpracticed in civil administration" and announced he would accept no salary.

Q—How long should a United States flag be left upon a grave?

A—Not more than one day.

The Doctor Says:

Drugs Cause Disease

By Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt

Although the number of persons with lupus erythematosus (the "butterfly disease") appears to be increasing, the outlook for the victims of this serious disease is improving. The increased incidence is due in part to the fact that the prolonged use of certain drugs can cause it. The improved outlook is due to earlier recognition and prompt treatment with some of the newer drugs.

A drug that has caused a large proportion of cases of this disease is hydralazine which is given for high blood pressure. Some anticonvulsant drugs given for epilepsy is isoniazid for tuberculosis, procainamide for irregular heart beats, phenylbutazone for arthritis, sulfonamides for ordinary pus infections, griseofulvin for fungus diseases and several others have also been known to trigger an attack of lupus.

If your doctor is giving you any of these drugs, he will watch for signs. If they occur the progress of the disease can be checked by prompt withdrawal of the drug. Although the cause in most cases is unknown, there appears to be a hereditary factor in some victims.

The disease in its early stages is not easy to recognize because the onset is slow and the symptoms are varied. A red eruption extending from the bridge of the nose to both cheeks in a butterfly (lupus in Latin) pattern is seen in about half of the victims. This is aggravated by exposure to sunlight. Another early symptom is pain in the joints with or without fever. Damage to the kidneys and blood vessels occurs later. These are the most common causes of death from lupus erythematosus.

The most useful drugs in the treatment of this disease are the steroid hormones related to cortisone. Permethasone acetate, one of the newest of these has been found to be effective, especially when the dread kidney complications are present. Other drugs that have proved useful are aspirin, antibiotics, antimalarial drugs, nitrogen mustard and drugs that depress antibody formation. Like all powerful modern drugs, the dosage of these remedies must be controlled with great skill if harmful side effects are to be avoided.

Q—How can one tell the difference between waterlogging of the tissues in the abdominal wall and fat?

A—If you put firm pressure on the tissue with your thumb for about 30 seconds the waterlogged tissue will retain a deep pit (as would bread dough) for several minutes.

DRILL PROVIDES SURPRISE
GALLUP, N. M. (AP) — School system employees and students who have classes in the Gallup school administration building dutifully filed out of the building during a routine fire drill.

As they stood outside, some noticed smoke coming from an attic store room.

Firemen at the scene for the drill grabbed extinguishers and went to work. The fire caused an estimated $400 damage.

Firemen Elect New Officers

POWERS-SPALDING — At a recent meeting of the Spalding Township Firemen, new officers were elected: Lloyd Fazer, chairman; Melvin Fazer, vice chairman; Leo Labre, secretary; Tom Finnerty, treasurer. Out-going officers are Walter Petersen, Melvin Fazer and David Draz. They plan a smelt fish fry for the firemen and their wives the evening of Friday, April 30. Frank Nowack is in charge of obtaining the fish.

Mrs. Raymond Poupore is a surgical patient at St. Francis Hospital, Escanaba.

Richard DeLoughary, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward DeLoughary left Sunday for Detroit where he will attend Greens College barber school.

Ann Landers

Parents Have Corny Outlook

Dear Ann Landers: I am 11 years old and I didn't think I'd need you for a few years yet but here I am.

My parents are the greatest but they have one corny habit that makes me mad. They keep telling me how easy kids have it today and then they get to harping about how tough things were when they were my age. My dad grew up on a farm. He got up at 4:30 in the morning to milk cows and gather eggs and bring in wood.

My mother was a city girl and she said there were days when there wasn't enough food in the house to feed all the kids.

We live in an apartment and they wouldn't let us have cows and chickens up here even if we wanted to. The only wood we need is for the fireplace and a man brings it. There is no point in getting up at 4:30 in the morning because I don't have to be in school until 8:45.

Is it true that things were so much harder in those days? My folks are quite old—like you. How about the truth?—CRACKERS

Dear Crackers: Your folks probably grew up during the depression and you can believe them when they say things were tough. Some people had nothing to eat at home so the government and private agencies set up soup kitchens.

It's fine to tell children about those days because it's a part of history, but to criticize kids because they have it easy today makes no sense. The products of the depression didn't choose to be poor, it just happened.

Dear Ann Landers: I picked at my husband and nagged him until he lost his temper and spoke harshly to me in front of the children. Then I threatened him with a divorce.

The next day I telephoned his mother, his brother and two sisters and gave them all the ugly details. The phone conversations took the better part of the afternoon. After talking to them I became so ill I had to go to bed.

When my husband came home he called the doctor. The diagnosis was low blood sugar, thyroid trouble and total exhaustion. I was given a special diet, medication and ordered to bed for five days.

Now, 10 days later, I feel like a new person. But I'm so ashamed I telephoned my in-laws that I can't face them. My husband has been an angel. Not once has he mentioned the phone calls although I'm sure they told him.

This letter is not a request for advice. It's a warning to other wives who may be nervous and run-down to keep their troubles inside the home walls and see a doctor. I wish I had.—SORRY NOW

Dear Sorry: You made a mistake but even mistakes can be useful if we learn from them.

Now that you are feeling better call your husband's family and say you hope they will forget about your previous call.

Dear Ann Landers: I am going with a boy I will call Douglas. We are both 17. Douglas comes from a prominent, well-to-do family. His parents don't think I am good enough for him.

The problem is that Douglas' curfew is earlier than mine and his folks get mad at me when he comes home late. Naturally I want to stay out as late as I can and so long as I have permission why shouldn't I? Am I right or wrong?—PICK-ED ON

Dear Picked: If you want to help Douglas maintain a peaceful relationship with his parents forget about YOUR curfew and see to it that he gets you home in time to honor HIS. This will not only make life easier for Douglas, but it will demonstrate to his parents that you are a considerate, responsible girl—and not a trouble-maker. They might even decide you are good enough for their Douglas.

When necking becomes petting, watch out! To learn how the smart girl keeps both her dignity and her boy friend, send for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "Necking and Petting—And How Far To Go," enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Gas Plant Sale:

Voters To Get Every Question Fully Answered

The voters of Escanaba should be fully and fairly informed and capable of voting intelligently when they go to the polls on June 1 to decide whether the City of Escanaba will sell its municipal gas system.

This is the goal of the City Council and its administration is setting up a series of information meetings.

Plans to bring information to the voters were discussed by the City Council, its administrative staff, members of the Natural Gas Study Committee, and representatives of Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. at an informal meeting in the City Hall last night.

Forum Meeting

"We want people to ask questions and we want to be able to answer every question fully and factually," said Mayor George W. Rusch. "We don't want anyone to be able to say that he couldn't get an answer."

To this end the City Council is setting up open forum meetings which the public is urged to attend.

The first of such meetings will be held Wednesday night,

April 14, in the City Hall Council chambers.

At this meeting the people in the audience (and the Council is hopeful there will be many citizens there) will write down the questions they want answered. The questions will then be read and answered.

Offer Speakers

Persons may also telephone questions to the Council by calling ST 6-0605 the night of the meeting.

Or they may telephone ST 6-0605, ST 6-1194 or ST 6-0240 any day except Saturday and Sunday to ask questions relating to the gas system proposition. The numbers are all those in City Hall.

Additional forum meetings of the Council will be held and clubs, groups and organizations throughout the community are being contacted with an offer of a fact program on the gas system sale proposal.

So far there have been 13 groups requesting speakers at their meetings, the Council was advised by City Clerk Don Guindon. They range from the Delta Trades & Labor Council to the Legion, PTA's, League of Women Voters and the Harnischfeger Union. Groups wanting a program should contact the city Clerk.

Cross-Section

Mayor Rusch at last night's meeting reported on the membership of the Natural Gas Advisory Committee and the method of their selection from a large number of nominations.

Paul Vardigan, chairman, is a teacher representing education; Wesley Hansen, super market department manager, represents marketing and retail; Roger Murray is an engineer with the State Highway Department and represents the professions; Peter Ross, tax assessor, represents government; John Baker, Harnischfeger office employee, represents industry; John Sauve, papermaker, represents the Labor and the Papermaker's Union; and John Jaeger, paving and soil contractor, represents businessmen.

The Council has received a letter from its Gas study committee which was read by mayor Rusch last night. The letter in part:

"The committee believes that the entire issue should be considered with complete candor and objectivity before unfair prejudices are solidified and inaccurate statements receive credence by the mere process of repetition. We also feel that frank and open discussions of relevant specifics are necessary in order to assure an informed electorate at the polls on June 1."

Offer $725,000

"We therefore recommend that the City Council call several forum-type meetings for the purpose of exploring the disadvantages, as well as the benefits of the sale of the gas distribution system to Michigan Consolidated Gas Co."

igan Consolidated Gas Co."

F. H. McIntire, Detroit, vice president of Michigan Consolidated Gas Co., described the progress being made by the firm in its proposal to bring a supply of natural gas to the area with approval of the Federal Power Commission. This approval is expected soon.

Escanaba is the only municipal gas system remaining in Michigan. Michigan Consolidated has offered $725,000 cash for it and the decision will be made by the voters on June 1.

Michigan Consolidated will bring its own program of information to the people regarding the proposed sale, and McIntire said representatives of the firm will be available to answer public questions on call from the Council.

LONG WAY FROM ELKO
ELKO, Nev. (AP) — Soviet authorities sent official word from Moscow this fall of the death of a defector.
Don Lewis, manager of the Ruby Valley Wildlife Refuge in Elko County, was notified that a pintail duck he banded four years ago had been shot in Eastern Russia.

The letter from A. Vinokurov, chief of the bird ringing center in Moscow, added the duck was shot in May of 1962.
Lewis said he had no idea why it took the Soviet authorities two years to notify him of the shooting.

Unity Favored By Protestants

LEINGTON, Ky. (AP) — Moves toward a wide reunion of American Protestantism took on a new interracial dimension today.

Indications came from three large Negro denominations that they will join the project.

Other church leaders applauded the news.

"It is something we had hoped for," said Episcopal Bishop Robert F. Gibson, Jr., of Richmond, Va., presiding chairman at the "consultation on church union."

"It will strengthen the consultation by making it more truly representative of all Christian people in America. It has never been our intention that this should be a union of predominantly white churches."

Observers from three Negro Methodist bodies, with a total of about 2½ million members, said they anticipated early action by their denominations authorizing official entry into the talks.

"I have no doubt that they will act favorably on it," said the Rev. Dr. Charles S. Spivey Jr., dean of Payne Theological Seminary, Wilberforce, Ohio, of the African Methodist Episcopal Church.

The six denominations engaged in the consultation — Methodist, Episcopal, United Presbyterian, United Church, Christian (Disciples) and Evangelical United Brethren — have some Negro members, but are mainly white.

The expected additions would bring the number of denominations to nine, with membership of more than 25 million.

The word from the Negro bodies came in response to a direct invitation.

It was issued as the consultation decided to start preparing a specific outline for unification, and asked 16 other denominations with observers present to consider entering the effort at this "critical time."

The three Negro denominations are Christian Methodist Episcopal, African Methodist Episcopal Zion and African Methodist Episcopal.

SENATE TAKES INSIDE
LANING (AP) — The Senate delayed until today consideration of the workmen's compensation bill, the key piece of legislation on this week's calendar.
A reprinting of the bill because of numerous committee amendments was not completed in time for discussion Wednesday, said Majority Leader Sen. Raymond Dzendzel, D-Detroit.
The bill proposes lifting maximum weekly benefits to $100 from the present $57 and contains numerous other provisions for expanded compensation coverage.

Birth Control Bills On Deck

LANSING (AP)—Public family planning assistance could be extended to unwed mothers—under certain circumstances—under terms of amendments to two controversial House birth control bills adopted by the House Social Welfare Committee Wednesday.

The amended bills were to be reported out to the House today. Rep. William Ryan, D-Detroit, sponsor of the bills, offered the amendments which would allow state and local welfare agencies to provide birth control information or material after a second illegitimate birth to a mother on welfare.

The bills set a state policy on birth control for welfare recipients and authorize the establishment of clinics.

They prohibit initiation of birth control discussions by social workers—contrary to the policy adopted last month by the State Social Welfare Commission and earlier this year by the city of Detroit.

Two Dangers Avoided
The commission's policy, which would be superceded by such legislation, allows initiation, provided no pressure is applied to accept the assistance as a requirement for relief.

It allows assistance to unwed mothers as part of a total program of problem-solving and rehabilitation.

Ryan's amendments to his own bills are "an attempt to draw the line between two dangers—that of excessive illegitimacy at public expense on the one hand, and of conveying the idea that the state sanctions sexual promiscuity by providing information and help to unmarried women on the other," Ryan said.

"After the second birth, pattern has been set," he said. "And although this is contrary to public policy, which opposes sexual promiscuity, we can justify it by arguing it helps maintain suitable homes for the existing children and works for the overall good of society."

"Too Restrictive"
The bills, signed by nine Democrats and two Republicans, were opposed in a committee hearing Wednesday by Dr. Ralph Tenhave, a research assistant at the University of Michigan School of Public Health, and Mrs. John O'Brien of Ann Arbor, a representative of a World Family Planning group.

The measures were supported by Rupert Kettle, director of the Kent County Board of Social Welfare, which adopted a similar policy last September—the first birth control policy in the state.

Mrs. O'Brien, hailing the Social Welfare Commission's policy on birth control as "bold steps forward," criticized the bills as "not needed" and too restrictive.

"Initiation in this area should be allowed just as in any other social or health problem," she said.

Tenhave objected that the bills would "prevent me from initiating help for a woman whose life is at stake."

The amendments, Ryan said, allow a doctor to initiate discussions on "any matter which he deems essential to the physical well-being of his patient."

Youth Is Factor
The anti-initiation policy, Mrs. O'Brien said, denies women on welfare a "right to know."

Private physicians usually ask the mother of a new-born child what her future plans are. Under the proposed law, except for essential questions of health, a doctor would not be allowed to ask the welfare mother the same question if it led to a discussion of birth control.

Because the percentage of stillbirths and maternal mortality is substantially higher in such cases—often because of the youth of the mother—"I want to do something before that second birth," Tenhave said.

Kettle objected that the initiation is "inherently coercive, because the case worker has a life-and-death power over the welfare recipient."

The bulk of case workers—many of them young, unmarried

Utility Options Building Here For Office Usage

Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. of Detroit has optioned the Lavelle Building at 1628 Ludington St., pending ratification of the sale of the City of Escanaba gas utility in an election June 1 for use as an office building.

If the sale is ratified Michigan Consolidated will occupy the quarters June 10, said James C. Preston, general manager of the utility's Northern District.

Michigan Consolidated's long range plans call for the building of its own office facilities in the City of Escanaba at a later date, said Preston.

Rites Arranged For War I Ace

DETROIT (AP)—The body of an American World War I fighter ace—who in his last years had to battle near-poverty—will be buried Friday on Commonwealth territory, in nearby Windsor, Ont.

R. E. Dodds was a dashing young pilot for the Royal Flying Corps who shot down 11 German planes with his De Havilland bi-plane.

To thousands on both sides of the Atlantic his name became a household word when King George of Great Britain honored Captain Dodds with the Distinguished Flying Cross—one of the nation's highest decorations—after a bombing raid of the German lines in France.

Last Friday, Dodds died at the age of 72 in his small boarding house room in Detroit, victim of a heart ailment. The boarding house manager said he did not know of any relative of Dodds.

His body lay unclaimed in the Wayne County Morgue for four days.

Funeral services were finally arranged by the Canadian Legion of Detroit. Burial will be at Victoria Memorial Cemetery.

A native of Buffalo, N. Y., Dodds enlisted in 1916. After training in Toronto and England, he was assigned to duty on the Western front from Dunkirk to Soissons and elsewhere. He eventually was named a squadron commander.

Between the two world wars, Dodds sold cars in Detroit. At the start of World War II he became a pilot instructor for the Royal Canadian Air Force.

He became a car salesman again after 1945. After his retirement in 1957, Dodds lived on a small social security pension. He was plagued by frequent illnesses.

Nahma

Attend Workshop
Representing the Nahma School district at the workshop for the study of the pre-school program, held Saturday at the State Office Building in Escanaba, were Frank Stupak and Eugene Hartman.

Mrs. Robert Boudreau and children of Milwaukee are visiting at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Labadie.

Mrs. Nick Gemunden has returned to her home after spending the winter months with her children in Owosso and Flint. Mr. and Mrs. Olin Weber of Owosso accompanied her to Nahma.

Mr. and Mrs. Vern Blowers of Detroit were recent guests at the William French home.

A group of American Playground Device Company employees have left for a term of employment at the American plant at Anderson, Ind. The group includes Joe Pilon, Herbert Blowers, George Ritter, William French, Helmer Nelson and Albert Mercier Jr.

and fresh out of college—are "not qualified to initiate discussion of birth control," he said. "Such a policy would place harsh responsibilities on them and on social welfare departments."

Finland Shelters Used As Garages

HELSINKI, Finland (AP) — This little country on the frontier of two worlds is building air-raid shelters with methodical, Nordic thoroughness, then converting them promptly into garages, and storehouses for trunks and suitcases.

This started in 1959 when several countries, including the United States, talked seriously about air-raid shelters.

The Finns, who have had 42 wars with the Russians through the centuries, enacted a law. It requires that every private house have a shelter and that every apartment house provide underground protection for its occupants, but not under the building itself. The result is that nearby every apartment house project has space for an underground shelter. When built, they serve as garages.

In Solid Rock

In Helsinki they are made in solid rock because the whole city is built on a sunken mountain ledge.

Even the big government office building is building a shelter.

No one seems quite sure whether any specific alarm started the bomb-shelter movement. However, one official recalled that it was around the time that Soviet Premier Khrushchev gave the West an ultimatum about signing a treaty with East Germany and expelling the Allies from Berlin.

If you ask people whether Finland is preparing for a nuclear war most of them laugh, but a few of them turn serious and say you can't take chances these days.

The Finns remember Nov. 30, 1939, when Russian bombs began falling on the city even while the Finnish Cabinet thought it was still negotiating.

Green Spaces Provided

The raid was half over before the Finns could convince themselves that they were in a war. That made the Finns so mad they went out and gave the Russians a sound drubbing for several months until they ran out of ammunition, planes and soldiers — and had to sign an armistice. Four million can't beat 200 million.

A city planning adviser, Goran Engroos, who studied architecture at Cornell University, Ithaca, N.Y., is advising on providing peaceful green space in the city. His greens run right up to the mouths of some shelters.

Some 20 apartment house shelters have been built, and two big public shelters are to be ready soon, one for 18,000 and one for 35,000. There is no exact figure on how many people could find cover now, or how much the digging has cost.

New Chemical Fights Cancer

DETROIT (AP) — Development of a new type of experimental anticancer agent — a chemical with molecular "claws" — was reported today to the American Chemical Society.

The synthetic drug has proved effective in destroying or slowing a wide variety of cancers in animals. It has yet to be proved useful in man.

It's a new form of a class of chemicals known as thiosemicarbazones, and is dubbed "KTS" for short. It has an unusual ability to pick up, or "chelate," certain trace minerals present in the body, such as copper, in a claw-like action. It apparently needs copper to give it antitumor activity.

Tests of whether it would be safe for use in man have been started in a few presumably hopeless cases of cancer, reported Dr. Harold G. Petering of the Upjohn Co. Kalamazoo, Mich.

But Petering said at a news conference at the 149th national ACS meeting that the human tests being conducted at Roswell Park Memorial Institute, Buffalo, N.Y., are only preliminary ones to evaluate safety.

He indicated that the tests are not expected to provide any gauge of whether the substance would be effective against cancer in man.

Petering elaborated on a formal report he and researcher Garret J. Van Giessen, also of Upjohn, prepared for the meeting.

The scientist said, in answer to a question, that the research left unanswered questions, including exactly how the drug works against animal tumors.

But he said the substance, in animal tests, has:

1. Caused complete disappearance of a number of tumors experimentally transplanted into rats and mice — including malignancies of the pancreas, intestines, stomach, muscle and bone.
2. Produced "very marked inhibition (slowing of growth)" of some such tumors that had developed naturally in other test animals.
3. Lowered the incidence of tumor recurrence when sprinkled into wounds made by surgical removal of animal tumors.
4. Shown no evidence of causing significant harm to normal tissue in animals.

Jennings Takes Over IUE Post

WASHINGTON (AP) — Paul Jennings, declared the winner by the Labor Department in a strife-ridden union election, has taken over as president of the AFL-CIO International Union of Electrical Workers.

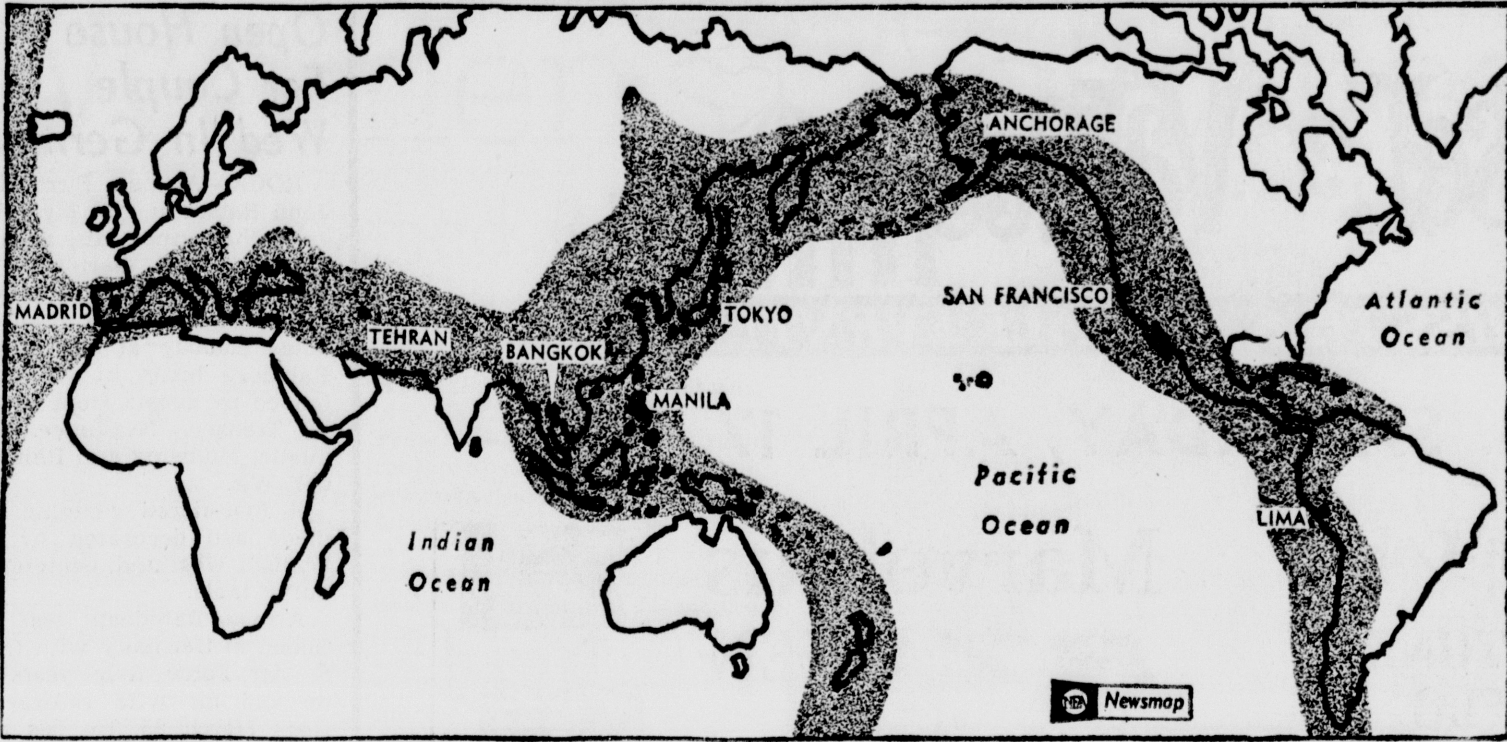

James B. Carey resigned as president after a report Monday that his re-election last fall to a new four-year term involved extensive miscounting of votes.

Jennings was unanimously elected president by the union's 30-member Executive Board.

Jennings will serve the four-year term that Carey had begun Jan. 1.

The Labor Department said Carey had been falsely declared re-elected last December by the union's five-man board of trustees, who counted the votes. The Labor Department report said the trustees had switched some 25,000 Jennings votes to Carey.

Carey, who said he had no knowledge of the vote miscounting, submitted his resignation, and then immediately left the board meeting.

EARTHQUAKE 'BELTS' OF THE WORLD—Earthquakes, such as the ones that rocked Chile recently and played havoc with Alaska last year, can strike anywhere and any time in the "belt" indicated above — and scientists say there's little we can do to avoid them. Geologic studies in communities in California and Alaska in "preventive geology" are now going on so that man can learn to adjust to the hazards of earthquakes, just as he learns to adjust to the weather. Information from U.S. Geological Survey.

Houston Sued For Water Bill

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Victoria Welcher says the city of Houston owes her $385 because of overcharges on her water bill dating back to 1944.

The 78-year-old woman, who has a file in the City Water Department almost as big as she is, sat silent and smiling Wednesday as her problem was described to the City Council by a niece, Mrs. Paul E. Ross.

"I'm on your side," Mayor Louie Welch told her.

Miss Welcher, wearing a black cotton dress with lace at the wrists and a small straw hat, smiled and nodded.

Mrs. Ross said her aunt built a private water line from the city system to her home years ago. In 1944, 1947 and 1961, the city erroneously permitted three homes to hook onto the line.

homes ran through Miss Welcher's meter. She and the users both paid the city for it.

The mistake was discovered when the city widened the street.

Water adjusters said they had records only through 1961. They refunded her $349 for the 1957 to 1961 overcharges.

"The city agreed to pay any aunt an additional $385 if she would let the city have the water line," Mrs. Ross said.

"We lived up to our part of the bargain but my aunt can't collect from the city."

The city legal department said the statute of limitations had run out.

Mrs. Ross said her aunt had supported herself for 39 years with a small amount of property left by her parents.

After Miss Welcher left the council chamber, Mayor Welch told City Atty. John Widenhalt:

"Find a way to pay her — not a lot of reasons why we can't."

The distance between the earth and the moon is estimated at about 238,000 miles.

HOW TO STEP UP TO TOMORROW'S JOBS

Jobs will be plentiful in the future. But they'll be different... —they'll demand new abilities and skills. The job you have today may not earn a good living for you tomorrow.

You won't get tomorrow's jobs with yesterday's skills

What you can do is step up to a new skill—by re-training. It means work, sure. But it also means you'll be qualifying yourself for one of the newer opportunities—perhaps with your present company. A better-paying job, too.

Take the first step in the right direction this week. Talk to the local office of your state employment service about re-training.

Train now for tomorrow's jobs

Open House For Couple Wed In Germany

ROCK—Airman First Class John Rabideau and Mrs. Rabideau, the former Miss Armgard Lork of West Germany, who were married Oct. 24 in Germany, were honored at an open house Sunday at the Stephen Rabideau home in Rock, attended by guests from Escanaba, Trenary, Negaunee, Marquette, Munising and Rhineland-Wis.

A four-tiered wedding cake, made and decorated by Mrs. William Westlund, centered the buffet table.

Airman Rabideau was stationed in Germany with the U. S. Air Force four years and he and his wife returned to Rock March 25. He has been listed for another four years and after Easter they will leave for Stead AFB, Reno, Nev., his new assignment.

The new Mrs. Rabideau was born in East Germany, but she grew up in West Germany. After leaving Koblenz, Germany, they came by plane from Frankfurt to New Jersey in 8 hours, arriving in Rock on March 25. It was quite a change in climate as flowers had been blossoming when they left Germany.

Mrs. Rabideau speaks English fluently, having studied it in their high school. She also speaks German, French and Latin. John has learned to speak German very well, having taken a course in the language while over there. Though his wife speaks English, her parents do not. Wishing to communicate with them was one of the reasons he learned the language. He graduated from Rock High in 1960.

Miss Casimir In Sacred Concert

Miss Mary Casimir, a senior at the College of Saint Teresa, Winona, Minn., will participate in the sacred concert, "Stabat Mater", Pergolesi, Sunday, April 11, which will open commencement activities for the class of 1965 at the college.

Paul Parthun will direct. Miss Casimir is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Casimir, Rapid River Rte. 1.

Isabella Circle Will Meet Monday Night

The regular business meeting of the Daughters of Isabella, Trinity Circle 382, will be held at April 12, at 8 p. m.

Officers Named By St. Francis Auxiliary

Mrs. William J. Smith presided at the monthly meeting of St. Francis Hospital Auxiliary Wednesday afternoon at which Mrs. Charles J. Byrns, chairman of the nominating committee, presented the slate of new officers and directors for the coming year.

Mrs. Irwin Gibbs is president; Mrs. Kryn Bloom, 1st vice president; Mrs. Ralph Anderson, 2nd vice president; Mrs. Irwin TenHaken, recording secretary; Miss Theodosia Kleinschmidt, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Paul Richter, treasurer; Miss Genevieve Harris, Sunshine committee chairman.

Directors are Mesdames W. J. Smith, Arno Whipple, James G. Degnan, Arthur Olson, Chet Morton and William Perron Sr. and newly elected, Mrs. Earl Casey and Mrs. Donald Wertz. Retiring directors are Mrs. Forrest Henslee and Mrs. Charles J. Byrns. Mrs. Donald Ness will head the coming year's nominating committee.

Guest Speaker

CONKLING—Mr. and Mrs. John Conkling, 2515 N. Richards, Milwaukee, are the parents of a daughter, Margaret Lois, weighing 8 pounds, born March 26. The infant is their first child. Mrs. Conkling is the former Deanna Olsen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Olsen, 1315 15th Ave. S., and the new member of the family is the Olsens' first granddaughter.

GRIFFEITH — Mr. and Mrs. Lorin C. Griffith, 424 Susan Lane, Thiensville, Wis., are the parents of a son, Jeffrey Robert, born April 5 at Columbia Hospital, Milwaukee. The baby weighed 7 pounds and 14 ounces. Mrs. Griffith is the former Joyce E. Erickson, R.N., daughter of Mrs. E. O. Erickson, 1228 Sheridan Road, and the late Captain Erickson.

MR. AND MRS. George P. Bogue of Libertyville, Ill., announce the engagement of their daughter, Mary Elaine, to John F. Horgan, son of Mrs. Claire Horgan of Chicago. Both young people are employed by Public Service Co. The future bridegroom is a 1960 graduate of Rock High School. No date has been set for the wedding.

Ham And Lamb Have Their Own Easter Appeal

There's something about April that draws us outdoors to breathe in the deep clean spring air. The aromas around the kitchen are appealing at this time of year, too.

There's the incomparable essence from the ham baking for Easter dinner, April 18. There will be a good selection of ham from which to choose — a size and style to suit every family.

Lamb is another Easter favorite with snuff appeal. You won't be disappointed if you want a lamb roast for the special day, but there is a seasonal reduction of supplies just now. The forecast for lamb for the entire year is less than a year ago, the American Meat Institute reports.

Beef will be a good buy during April. The supplies will probably be greater than last year's abundance. Much of the beef coming to market will be high quality beef — the roasting and broiling variety. Watch for special "beef-eater" sales at your meat department.

If you're looking for something unusual in the way of spring celebrations, you might celebrate Walpurgis Night, April 30, which also is known by the jaw-breaking name, Valborgsmassrafton. Because this is the Viking observance of spring, you could appropriately feature a smorgasbord. The endless variety of cold cuts and ready-to-serve meats are a natural for such an occasion and are always in good supply.

Cooking a meat soup? Be sure to skim off the scum as it rises to the top.

Baby Shower

A pink and blue shower honoring Mrs. Bernice Desotelle was held at the home of Mrs. Ralph Clausen. Guests were Miss Evelyn Sundstrom, Ford River, Mrs. Arthur Jackson, Wells, Mrs. Clifton Clausen, Kiva, and Mrs. Emma Nicholas, Mrs. Albertine Martin, Mrs. Ed Young and daughter, Shirley, Mrs. William Dahn, Mrs. Wanda Berg, Mrs. George Brown, Mrs. Clem Nephew, Mrs. Carl Ahlen and Mrs. Gordon McLeod. Lunch was served by the hostess.

West Coast Trip

Mr. and Mrs. Adeline Gerou and daughter, Charmaine, and Mrs. Stella Moore of Green Bay recently returned from an extended vacation on the West Coast. Enroute they stopped in Old Town in Albuquerque, N. M., and visited the painted desert, petrified forest, Grand Canyon and Hoover Dam in Arizona. They stopped in Las Vegas and toured extensively in the Los Angeles area visiting Disneyland and Marine Land. Enroute to Mexico they stopped in San Diego and on the Coronado Peninsula. They also traveled up the coast from Carmel to San Francisco where they enjoyed viewing the Golden Gate Bridge, Golden Gate Park and Fisherman's Wharf. On their return trip they saw Reno, the Bonneville salt flats and Great Salt Lake Desert, among many points of interest.

Train Service In PSC Field

LANSING (AP) — The Michigan Public Service Commission has jurisdiction over the cancellation of passenger service on two New York Central New York-to-Chicago trains that pass through the state, says chairman Peter Spivak.

Under a 1958 federal act, Spivak told newsmen Wednesday, the railroad's failure to post 30 days' notice automatically switched jurisdiction back to the regulatory agencies of the states involved. Jurisdiction in such a case normally is exercised by the Interstate Commerce Commission (ICC).

Hastily lettered signs were posted in Michigan depots last Saturday announcing the service would be discontinued as of Sunday, he said.

"Twenty passengers showed up Monday morning, but were refused entrance to the train said.

General Faces More Grilling

LANSING (AP) — Maj. Gen. Ronald McDonald, who has spent about eight hours on the witness stand explaining actions which led to his suspension, faced a further barrage of questions today.

Today is the 18th day of Gov. George Romney's 84-hour-old hearing on gross neglect of duty charges against McDonald and Brig. Gen. Carson Neifert.

It marks exactly six months from the day they first were relieved of duty.

In nearly four hours' cross examination Wednesday, Assistant Atty. Gen. Russell Searl probed into alleged illegal Camp Grayling land transactions involved in the charges.

Assistant Atty. Gen. James Ramsey planned to question McDonald today about alleged "illegal expenditures."

Searl's queries hit again at key points raised earlier — how much the State Military Board knew about the land deals when it approved them, and what notice the military gave to an Attorney General's letter concerning land transactions.

Asked at which meetings the board was informed of details of the land transactions, McDonald said "It seems like we told them at every meeting."

The charges say McDonald and Neifert failed to inform the board of full details of the transactions.

"When you have two lawyers out of four members of the board, there's nothing you can hide," McDonald added.

The letter involved was sent to McDonald in September, 1958, by then deputy Atty. Gen. Joseph Blittzke.

Romney told McDonald, "there is no question in my mind that the Attorney General said this transaction (one involved in the charges) was illegal."

McDonald, however, called it "an ambiguous letter."

Sven Lundell is a medical patient at St. Francis Hospital. Bruce Clark of Marquette visited Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Clem Nephew.

The state suffered a second setback in its continuing railroad problems Wednesday with an Ingham County Circuit Court ruling in a similar but unrelated case.

The ruling permits the Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad to discontinue two trains on its Detroit-Grand Rapids run.

Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley said immediately he will file a petition asking a stay of the court order, adding that he will petition the State Appeals Court for leave to appeal.

A bill to tighten state control over passenger service discontinuance, meanwhile, was half-way through the legislature. It passed the House quickly Monday after word of the NYC action reached legislators.

BERRY'S WORLD

Co-ops Turn To Ads, Accent On Sales Promotion

American farmers have for generations concentrated their efforts on production of foods and fibers.

The accent has made them the best farmers in the world; made America the best fed nation in the world, and made farming so efficient that it now uses only about 8 per cent of the population and the projections say it will soon be down to 5 per cent.

American farmers can produce more food than Americans day. The meeting was one of three in the Upper Peninsula for leaders of farm cooperatives.

U.P. Co-ops

The U.P. co-ops offer marketing and supply services, electric service, canning, beef and young feeder cattle production, artificial breeding, milk handling, strawberry marketing, equipment supply and other services.

There are 65 farmer cooperatives in the Upper Peninsula today where there were several hundred at one time. The shrinkage reflects the smaller number of farms and the trend toward bigness. Those which have survived are larger than the little consumer co-ops which expired, closing their rural stores, or the producer co-ops which operated cheese factories and other small enterprises.

The consumer co-ops are changing character and where they were once for farmer members only they tend now to serve the public at large, both city and rural.

Changes Are Deep

The deep changes underway in the farmer cooperative organization in America are indicated by the suggestion that the Farm Bureau Federation buy the Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co. to inject organized American agriculture forcibly into major food marketing. The Federation is now concerned only with food and fiber production but marketing has become such an important part of the agricultural complex that its influence upon farming has become a matter of Congressional inquiry.

The use of milk as a loss leader in supermarket operation in Michigan is an example of the influence of markets on agriculture. Efforts to protect the dairy industry from sale of its products below cost of production by Michigan legislation have been unsuccessful so far.

Henry Larzelere, Michigan State University specialist, said that originally local co-operatives counted upon farmer member loyalty for their patronage, but today economics — the offering of commodities and services at attractive prices — is the greatest motivation for patronage. Co-operatives, he said, were formed by the progressive persons in farm communities a few generations ago and were ahead of their time.

Co-ops Use Ads

Henry Halverson of Midland Co-operatives, Minneapolis, one of the Midwest's successful regional cooperatives, said that advertising used to be a "sin" in the view of the co-operatives, but that Midland had found identification necessary for modern operation and that it uses advertising liberally.

Halverson said that in Iowa and elsewhere there is now a great wave of co-operative mergers. He cautioned the co-op leaders that mergers should bring the co-op members some benefits or they shouldn't be undertaken.

He declared that co-operatives' ownership of their own production plants is a mixed bag. Some co-ops, he said, are fearful to acquire facilities like fertilizer plants because obsolescence is such a threat. He cited a Midwest fertilizer plant which cost $12.5 million and which is losing a customer which has taken all its output, because of obsolescence.

Chaney said co-operatives continue to grow. Their sales in 1964 were more than 6 per cent above 1963 in the nation and 5 per cent higher in Michigan.

William Boushek Of Spalding Dies

William Boushek, 77, of Spalding, died at 8:45 a. m. Wednesday at St. Joseph-Lloyd Hospital, Menominee.

He was born April 8, 1887, in Casco, Wis., and was a laborer and woodsman during his active years. He has no survivors.

Funeral services will be held Friday at 9:30 a. m. at the Kell-Tondin Chapel in Spalding. Father Watler Franczek will officiate. Burial will be in Spalding Township Cemetery.

Friends may call at the chapel after 6 p. m. today and the rosary will be recited there at 8:45 p. m.

C&NW To Begin Hauling Natural Ore To Escanaba

The Chicago & North Western railroad, facing heavy demands from steel companies for iron ore, will begin running trains to Stambaugh and Crystal Falls mines tonight to load natural ore for shipment from the Escanaba dock.

Previously, only pellet ore had been shipped because of danger of freezing.

The railroad has had over 6,000 cars tied up with frozen ore in its Escanaba yards since last fall.

The Escanaba harbor, broken up by the U. S. Coast Guard ice breakers Mackinaw and Mesquite earlier this week, is the only iron ore shipping port on the Great Lakes open for business.

"Marquette is hoping it can get a ship in by April 21," said Lee McMillan, C&NW dock agent here. "By that time we'll have shipped a half million tons."

The L. E. Block, currently loading 13,000 tons of pellets, is expected to clear for Indiana Harbor this evening, according to McMillan. Three more ore carriers—the Diamond Alkali, D. P. Thompson and Henry Ford—are expected late this afternoon.

Trains Run Daily

"It's a little bit early to start running natural ore," said McMillan. "We're taking a chance on freezing, but we're hoping for a break in the weather."

McMillan said the C&NW is running trains daily to the Empire Mine at Palmer and the Groveland Pellet Plant at Randville and with addition of natural ore trains will be moving about 500 to 600 cars per day.

Meanwhile, the cutters Mackinaw and Mesquite continued to break ice in Little Bay de Noc to prepare for the expected start of the fuel oil shipping season this weekend.

There was no indication from the Coast Guard as to how long the breakers would remain in Little Bay de Noc. Awaiting the Mackinaw is the formidable task of opening up the St. Mary's River to the Soo Locks to allow lakes' shippers the use of Lake Superior ports.

Tankers Coming

First tanker expected in the Escanaba area is the Amoco Wisconsin, loaded with about 45,000 barrels of fuel oil and gasoline for the Standard Oil terminal at Wells.

According to terminal superintendent Robert Haack, the Amoco Wisconsin will load Friday at Whiting, Ind., and arrive here either Saturday afternoon or Sunday.

Next in line would be the Martha E. Allen, carrying 32,000 barrels of jet fuel for the Wade Corp. terminal at Wells, and the Polaris, loaded with fuel oil and gasoline for Theisen Clemens at Gladstone at Kipling. The Polaris could arrive Sunday, while the Martha E. Allen is expected Monday.

Illness Fatal To Mrs. Lindahl

GLADSTONE — Mrs. Margaret Lines Lindahl, 74, of 1313 Superior Ave., Gladstone, died at 6:25 a. m. today at Pine Haven Nursing Home where she had been a patient three weeks. Her death followed a five year illness.

She was born Sept. 13, 1890, in Trondheim, Norway. She came to the United States in 1911 and lived in Minnesota and in the Stonington community before moving to Gladstone 50 years ago. Her marriage to Albert Lindahl took place in 1914 and they celebrated their golden wedding in May of 1964. He died March 12 of this year.

Mrs. Lindahl was a member of First Lutheran Church, Gladstone.

Surviving are one daughter, Mrs. Carl Sebeck, Gladstone, two grandchildren and four great grandchildren and one sister in Norway.

Friends may call at the Skradski Funeral Home Friday from 3 to 9:30 p. m. Funeral services will be held Saturday at 1 p. m. at First Lutheran Church, with the Rev. Reuben Carlson officiating. Burial will be in Fernwood Cemetery.

The body will be removed from the funeral home to the church at noon.

America Ready To Negotiate, President Says

pealed for immediate negotiations, Wednesday night Johnson gave them, the American people and the world, Washington's reply.

First he explained why the United States is in the war. "We fight because we must fight if we are to live in a world where every country can shape its own destiny. And only in such a world will our freedom be finally secure."

Second he outlined the U.S. position. "The first reality is that North Viet Nam has attacked the independent nation of South Viet Nam. Its object is total conquest."

"Of course, some of the people of South Viet Nam are participating in attack on their own government. But trained men and supplies, orders and arms, flow in a constant stream from North to South."

"This support is the heartbeat of the war."

A 20-cent piece was minted by the U. S. in 1875.

MANISTIQUE

Industrial Book Planned For City

The Manistique Planning Commission met Tuesday night with groups of the community interested in its promotion, to review industrial data presented in the Vilcan Leman planning study and to seek a concerted effort in further promotion.

Named to a committee to work with Otmer Schuster, planning commission chairman, are E. J. Thompson, president of the Chamber of Commerce, Fred H. Hahne, county planning commission; Dr. Merle Wehner, Industrial Development Corp., Clyde Strasser, City Planning Commission and S. C. Gesko Jr., city manager.

The committee will meet Wednesday to prepare an agenda for the next meeting, at 7:30 p.m., May 4 in the city hall, and to gather data on preparation of an industrial brochure.

This booklet would list information needed by industries considering locations, such as land, power, transportation, taxes, community cultural offerings, schools and industries, and allied information. This would be available for persons who receive requests for industrial information.

The community has money available in a Chamber of Commerce fund raised a dozen years ago for a brochure. At that time $2800 was raised and $800 was left.

The Industrial Development Corporation indicated at the meeting it could probably make $300 available. It receives this amount of money in interest on investments of the corporation, capitalized at $100,000 and in a position to construct a building if an industry wishes to locate. Additional stock can be sold. A poll is being made of 26 industries to determine their expansion plans, Fred Hahne said.

The county and city planning commissions, the Development Corporation, the Chamber of Commerce and the Jaycees were represented at the meeting. Max Putters of Vilcan Leman reviewed the land available in the community for industrial use, including some tracts of 25 to 30 acres, two with harbor access and all with some or all utility services.

The industrial park near the municipal shop was praised for location and advantages, with general cleanup of the area and data preparation on the site scheduled.

The amount of land available for industry is impressive, Putters said. Much of it is owned by the city or Industrial Development Corp., which means it could be made available in large blocks. The winter-open harbor is an important facet in transportation provisions, he noted.

New Development

HERMANVILLE — Aarne Ervast of Laurium, industrial agent for the Michigan Dept. of Economic Expansion, outlined federal industrial development programs to a group of about 25 residents, members of the town board and the Citizen Improvement Association at the Community Club Tuesday.

Ervast explained an industrial development revenue bond act of 1963 which permits municipalities to issue revenue bonds for "brick and mortar type industrial development" and discussed opportunities available through loan programs of the Small Business Administration and Economic Opportunity Act.

A question and answer session followed Ervast's address.

Prussian king Friedrich Wilhelm II ordered construction of Berlin's Brandenburg Gate in 1791.

Briefly Told

A semi-trailer truck driven by Alfred Jacobs, Green Bay, was damaged slightly at 7:15 p.m. Wednesday when it jackknifed off highway M-35 at the intersection of Co. Rd. A-23, Ford River Township. State Police of the Gladstone Post reported. Jacobs told officers he was going south on M-35 and had pulled out to pass a car stopped at the intersection. He said the car attempted to make a left turn as he got alongside and he ran off the road to avoid hitting the car.

State Lottery Suggested To Pay For Bridge

LANSING (AP) — A constitutional amendment authorizing a state lottery to pay off the Mackinac Bridge bonds is being proposed today by eight senators.

It's the latest in a series of suggestions on how best to reduce the $3.75 minimum toll on the span between the Upper and Lower Peninsulas while at the same time providing revenue to pay off the nearly $100 million in bridge bonds.

The measure's chief sponsor is Sen. Bernard O'Brien, D-Detroit.

Welfare Agency Merger Studied

DETROIT (AP)—The Michigan Welfare League Wednesday urged legislation that would merge welfare agencies to cut down on confusion and provide a more efficient and cheaper method of helping people.

The League's board of directors said there is a dual system now in which federally aided public assistance programs are administered by local bureaus of social aid while others are administered by the county departments of social welfare.

The board recommended all programs of public assistance and child welfare now provided by the two systems be administered in one local district office serving a county or number of counties.

It suggested that the State Department of Social Welfare's minimum standards could guide policy for the offices, with day-to-day decisions controlled by "an expanded local social welfare board which is broadly representative of all segments of the community."

Miss Michigan Deadline May 1

MUSKEGON (AP) — With 48 candidates already assured, the Miss Michigan pageant organization has announced a May 1 entry deadline and left room for only three more contestants to be accepted.

Sally Jane Noble, 20, a Michigan State University women's gymnastic team hopeful, is the current Miss Michigan and will relinquish her crown to a successor in the 16th annual pageant staged here July 27-30.

The girl named Miss Michigan represents the state at the annual Miss America pageant later in the year at Atlantic City, N. J.

Hanna Breaks Production Mark For Third Year

Net income of Hanna Mining Co., Cleveland, reached a record high in 1964 for the third successive year. The company earned $14,057,217, or $3.29 per share of common stock outstanding. This compares to 1963 earnings of $12,352,545, or $2.89 per share adjusted to reflect a 3-for-1 stock split in the spring.

Hanna is the largest shipper of iron ore through the Port of Escanaba.

Expenditures during 1964 for plant and equipment and for working assets in affiliated companies totaled $9 million compared to $9,456,000 in 1963. The company received a dividend of $4,179,867 from Iron Ore Co. of Canada, the third dividend of this magnitude paid by the company in as many years.

The most important developments in 1964 were decisions to construct three new beneficiating-pelletizing plants having a combined capacity of more than 5 million tons of high grade iron ore pellets a year, by mid-1967, when the three plants will be completed, Hanna Mining will be operating plants capable of producing about 13 million tons of pellets a year, placing the company among the world's foremost producers of this highly desirable blast furnace raw material.

Cost of the three projects will be approximately $155 million, of which Hanna's share is nearly $45 million, the largest capital expenditure program the company has ever undertaken.

Hanna Mining now operates three pellet plants with a combined annual capacity of nearly 8 million tons. The three new projects are: Pilot Knob Pellet Co., a joint development with Granite City Steel Co. in southeast Missouri, is due for completion in mid-1967 and will produce 750,000 tons of pellets a year; Butler taconite project, on the Mesabi Range in Minnesota, will be owned by Inland Steel Co., Wheeling Steel Corp., and Hanna Mining and will have an annual capacity of 2 million tons and be

Crop Shortage Boosts Spuds

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—You with the potatoes and gravy appetite are paying more for your taste this year than Americans ever have.

It's because the nation's 1964 potato crop was the smallest in seven years—nearly 25 million 100-pound bags under the previous five-year average of 266 million bags.

All major producing areas but Maine were hit last year by bad weather and frosts.

The acreage finally harvested—1.3 million acres—was the smallest since 1867, reports the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Supply and demand have boosted San Francisco retail prices to 79 cents for a five-pound sack of No. 1 Oregon Klamaths, sized from six to 14 ounces.

In Idaho, land of the premium russet baking potato, 1964 production dropped to 36.3 million bags, a decrease of 14 million from 1963.

Idaho russet bakers cost 20 cents a pound.

Potato prices stabilized at high levels in October and now are peaking just before the new crop starts coming in.

"In 33 years in the potato business I've never seen anything like this," said George Burger, a San Francisco potato broker.

He brought in a carload of Canadian potatoes to keep his hotel and restaurant customers supplied with eight-to-10-ounce baking sizes.

"I tell you I never did that before. These Canadian potatoes cost me $9 a bag delivered here."

Potato chip prices have not gone up because chip makers were guaranteed their supplies at prices contracted with growers before they planted.

One market chain expects prices to start downward by mid-April. Burger said he doesn't expect a major break before mid-May.

Medal Proposed For Satchmo As Goodwill Envoy

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., has a suggestion for President Johnson: Pin a presidential medal on Louis (Satchmo) Armstrong for being a "goodwill ambassador" in many nations in recent years.

Javits made the proposal Wednesday, noting that the veteran Negro trumpeter was the first American band leader to score a triumph in Communist East Germany.

Armstrong will be 65 on July 4, the day the President announces his medal winners.

Poll Of Sports Writers Favors Yanks, Cardinals

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The New York Yankees, who couldn't beat Johnny Keane and the Cardinals in the 1964 World Series, will get another crack at St. Louis—with Keane on their side—this year.

The Yankees were voted into a record-shattering sixth straight American League pennant by a narrow margin in balloting by 266 sports writers and broadcasters in The Associated Press' annual pre-season baseball poll.

St. Louis received an even slimmer margin over Philadelphia and Cincinnati.

The Yankees, with Keane having replaced Yogi Berra as their manager, recorded 60 more points than Baltimore and 160 more than the Chicago White Sox. The Cardinals, now under Red Schoendienst, outpolled the Phillies by 76 points and the Reds by 91.

St. Louis, which won the 1964 pennant on the last day of the season after being selected for third in the pre-season poll, had a total of 2,189 points while Philadelphia had 2,113 and Cincinnati 2,098.

The world champions' slim triumph was built despite their having received only 40 first-place votes compared with 77 for the Phillies and 73 for the Reds, a rare disparity in the poll.

Votes were counted on the basis of 10 points for first, nine for second, etc., down to one for 10th.

The Yankees' selection was made certain by 109 first-place votes, far more than the Orioles' 67 and the White Sox' 73. New York finished with 2,400 points, Baltimore 2,340 and Chicago 2,240.

In proving the prognosticators correct last year, the Yankees won the pennant by one game over Chicago and two over Baltimore. St. Louis nosed out Philadelphia and Cincinnati by one game each.

The Mets, a perennial last-place choice, drew the most votes for any one spot—185 for 10th in the NL. The Athletics earned 179 for last in the AL.

Maris Acquitted In Assault Case

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP)—Roger Maris, acquitted of a charge he slugged a man in a bar fight last week, said he had decided to sue for more than $100,000.

"I did not swing at anybody," the New York Yankee outfielder told Municipal Court Wednesday. "I was shoved from behind and thrown against the plaintiff. That was all."

After the judge found him innocent and he rushed to a spring training game, Maris announced he was going to file a civil suit against his accuser, Jerome Modzelewski, a 25-year-old male model.

Modzelewski, who divides his time between agencies here and in Chicago, also has pressed charges against Clete Boyer, the Yankees' third baseman.

That trial is set for May 11. A bartender, Robert J. Burns, said he was trying to quiet Boyer "when the bang happened. That's when Boyer hit him (Modzelewski)."

Burns and another witness said they did not see Maris take a swing.

Modzelewski and his red-haired companion, 21-year-old Angela Della Vedova of Sudbury, Ont., testified that the rhubarb started when they were leaving Nick's Bar the night of April 1.

Modzelewski said he heard an objectionable remark—so objectionable that it was not allowed in testimony—directed at him from the ballplayers' table.

"I asked Mr. Boyer for an apology," Modzelewski said. He went on:

"Boyer said, 'let's go out and fight.'"

"I said, 'I don't want to fight. I'm here for an apology.'"

"Maris said, 'get out of here. Who do you think you are?'"

Modzelewski said the pair then "ushered me out the door" and outside "the arms of both men came flailing."

Maris said he first noticed Modzelewski as he was talking to Boyer inside the lounge.

"I looked at Clete and I could see he was getting a little mad," Maris said. He said he was pushed toward the front door and when he got outside he "tried to stop what was... happening."

Instead of taking a punch, Maris said he pulled one person off Modzelewski. He also denied that he said, "let's go get him."

"I think I'm big enough if I wanted to get him, I could," Maris said.

Judge Arnold Grevior dismissed the charge. "There is a reasonable doubt as to what happened," he said.

It took 11 stitches to close a cut on Modzelewski's mouth.

Maris Acquitted In Assault Case

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP)—Roger Maris, acquitted of a charge he slugged a man in a bar fight last week, said he had decided to sue for more than $100,000.

"I did not swing at anybody," the New York Yankee outfielder told Municipal Court Wednesday. "I was shoved from behind and thrown against the plaintiff. That was all."

After the judge found him innocent and he rushed to a spring training game, Maris announced he was going to file a civil suit against his accuser, Jerome Modzelewski, a 25-year-old male model.

Modzelewski, who divides his time between agencies here and in Chicago, also has pressed charges against Clete Boyer, the Yankees' third baseman.

That trial is set for May 11. A bartender, Robert J. Burns, said he was trying to quiet Boyer "when the bang happened. That's when Boyer hit him (Modzelewski)."

Burns and another witness said they did not see Maris take a swing.

Modzelewski and his red-haired companion, 21-year-old Angela Della Vedova of Sudbury, Ont., testified that the rhubarb started when they were leaving Nick's Bar the night of April 1.

Modzelewski said he heard an objectionable remark—so objectionable that it was not allowed in testimony—directed at him from the ballplayers' table.

"I asked Mr. Boyer for an apology," Modzelewski said. He went on:

"Boyer said, 'let's go out and fight.'"

"I said, 'I don't want to fight. I'm here for an apology.'"

"Maris said, 'get out of here. Who do you think you are?'"

Modzelewski said the pair then "ushered me out the door" and outside "the arms of both men came flailing."

Maris said he first noticed Modzelewski as he was talking to Boyer inside the lounge.

"I looked at Clete and I could see he was getting a little mad," Maris said. He said he was pushed toward the front door and when he got outside he "tried to stop what was... happening."

Instead of taking a punch, Maris said he pulled one person off Modzelewski. He also denied that he said, "let's go get him."

"I think I'm big enough if I wanted to get him, I could," Maris said.

Judge Arnold Grevior dismissed the charge. "There is a reasonable doubt as to what happened," he said.

It took 11 stitches to close a cut on Modzelewski's mouth.

triumph was built despite their having received only 40 first-place votes compared with 77 for the Phillies and 73 for the Reds, a rare disparity in the poll.

Votes were counted on the basis of 10 points for first, nine for second, etc., down to one for 10th.

The Yankees' selection was made certain by 109 first-place votes, far more than the Orioles' 67 and the White Sox' 73. New York finished with 2,400 points, Baltimore 2,340 and Chicago 2,240.

In proving the prognosticators correct last year, the Yankees won the pennant by one game over Chicago and two over Baltimore. St. Louis nosed out Philadelphia and Cincinnati by one game each.

The Mets, a perennial last-place choice, drew the most votes for any one spot—185 for 10th in the NL. The Athletics earned 179 for last in the AL.

Negro Passers May Get Chance With Spartans

EAST LANSING (AP)—Duffy Daugherty is running a training school for ambitious young quarterbacks this spring.

Steve Juday, the No. 1 signal-caller, showed up for the first call for football Wednesday afternoon. But Juday will be dividing his time between the practice field and the baseball diamond this spring.

So some of his understudies—and there are a couple of likely-looking freshmen prospects—will get a chance to show their stuff.

There's a chance that Michigan State fans will be seeing the first Negro quarterback running the Spartans since Willie Thrower graduated in 1952. Likely prospects are Jim Raye and Eric Marshall, both imports from southern states.

Thrower was a great practice passer—he could heave it almost the length of the football field—but had a bad habit of throwing interceptions and incompletions in game situations.

Now, however, John Mullen of Toledo, who will be a junior this fall, is the top stand-in for Juday. Mullen lettered last year although he only played a little toward the end of the season and had just one pass completion in five tries.

Juday had the job fully under control and hit 79 of 148 pass tries for a 53 per cent average and nine touchdowns.

Coaches are enthused about Raye, a six-footer from Fayetteville, N. C. He is a running quarterback as well as a passer and so poses a double threat. He was voted the most valuable back of the freshman game last year.

Marshall, from Oxford, Miss., will be a sophomore in playing eligibility this year since he missed last year's season due to an injury in the early fall.

Daugherty had more than 80 candidates reporting and immediately started dividing them into offensive and defensive units. He plans to use the platoon system enabled by more liberal substitution rules this fall.

"We've always platooned our coaches," he said. "Now we'll be able to do it with our players."

Daugherty had 26 lettermen returning from the squad that had a 4-5 season last fall.

He planned to start scrimmage before the end of the week with a team hitting session scheduled for Saturday.

"We want to find out fast who the football players are," he said.

After Tuesday's battle, Tommy Ivan, Hawk manager, declared, "I think he's passed the test," referring to Hull's knees.

Also in good health for the vital game will be defenseman Pete Pilote and young center Phil Esposito. Both were pronounced fit after showing no signs of earlier ailments in Tuesday's game.

Bobby Hull Key Figure In Hockey Playoff Clash

CHICAGO (AP)—The first round Stanley Cup semifinal playoffs between the Chicago Black Hawks and the Detroit Red Wings resume Thursday night with the host Hawks seeking to square the best-of-7 series at two games each.

The Hawks will again be pinning their hopes on Bobby Hull, who looked like anything but a hobbled hockey player Tuesday when he contributed two goals in Chicago's 5-2 victory.

The two tallies raised Hull's playoff goal production to five in three games and signs of bad knees that sidelined the Golden Jet periodically the second half of the regular season were absent.

After Tuesday's battle, Tommy Ivan, Hawk manager, declared, "I think he's passed the test," referring to Hull's knees.

Also in good health for the vital game will be defenseman Pete Pilote and young center Phil Esposito. Both were pronounced fit after showing no signs of earlier ailments in Tuesday's game.

On the other hand, four Red Wings will not be available to Coach Sid Abel Thursday. Ron Murphy, ex-Hawk, reinjured his shoulder in Tuesday's tough tilt while Doug Barkley was yanked from the line-up after sustaining a groin injury.

Both Gary Bergman and Val Fonteyne were left in Detroit to recover from injuries suffered in the playoff opener.

The Hawks, with six rookies on their roster, are hoping the endurance of youth will start showing as the series moves into later games against the older playoff-wise Wings.

However, the Detroit veterans gave no indication of slowing down Tuesday as 42-year-old Ted Lindsay scored both Wing goals. Only Norm Ullman, who led the league in goals, with 42 over the regular season, showed signs of the long season.

Ullman was outplayed for the first time in the series by Stan Mikita, who beat him out for the regular season scoring trophy.

Abel seemed confident despite the defeat Tuesday. "They still have to beat us in Detroit to win the series," he said.

Detroit won the first two games of the series on home ice to take a 2-0 lead in the series. After tonight's fourth game, the teams return to Detroit for the fifth game.

Abel ordered no practice for his squad after the loss. Several Hawks skated Wednesday at the team's retreat in Rockton.

Writer Picks Cards To Win NL Pennant

By JACK HAND

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — The St. Louis Cardinals will shade the Cincinnati Reds in the National League this season with Philadelphia, San Francisco and Milwaukee snapping at their heels. If Sandy Koufax can work regularly, the Los Angeles Dodgers also will be up there. Only Houston and New York appear hopelessly out of it.

Nobody has repeated in the National League since Milwaukee in 1957-58 and only three teams have won successive pennants in the last 20 years. The Cards are a solid ball club at every position, a little thin in reserves and possibly in the bullpen. Like all the other floored by an injury to a key regular.

Health Is Important

The annual guessing contest is complicated this spring by the aches and pains of such stars as Orlando Cepeda, Roberto Clemente, Hank Aaron, Bill Mazeroski and Koufax. The healthiest team may get a jump in April and never be headed.

Here's the way it looks from here:

1. St. Louis
2. Cincinnati
3. Philadelphia
4. San Francisco
5. Milwaukee
6. Los Angeles
7. Pittsburgh
8. Chicago
9. Houston
10. New York

The Cards have the same lineup that squeezed home first last October and then beat off the New York Yankees in a seven-game World Series. They lost a manager when Johnny Keane moved over to the Yanks, but took on a favorite son, Red Schoendienst, as his successor. A year ago the outfield was unsettled. Now the Cards have Lou Brock and Mike Shannon to go with Curt Flood. The infield is of All-Star caliber. Tim Lincecum, still nursing a broken finger, is the only established catcher. The pitching has been helped by the addition of Bob Purkey from Cincinnati and Tracy Stallard from New York. The club has the punch, speed and defense to handle the others.

Great This Spring

Cincinnati has looked great in spring training. Frank Robinson is on the beam slugging home runs. The pitching is so deep that Dick Sisk actually has too many starters. The infield is still unsettled with experiments continuing at first and third. If the Reds get away fast, nobody may catch them because their pitching is the best in the league.

Philadelphia has added Dick Stuart to hit home runs and Bo Belinsky as another left-hander to the pitching side. It remains to be seen if there will be any reaction from the collapse of last September when the club let the pennant slide out of its grasp in a 10-game September losing streak.

Cepeda's slow recovery from knee surgery adds doubt to the Giant situation where Herman Franks, a coach last year, has taken over as manager. The potential is there with Willie Mays still leading the way but the Giants have an annoying habit of failing to live up to expectations.

Koufax Is Key

Milwaukee's hitters scare everybody in the league but Bobby Bragan's pitching still may be a little too green for the long run. The absence of Aaron, who underwent surgery on his ankle during spring training, has to hurt.

Koufax is the key to the Dodgers. If he is a once-a-week pitcher there will be a heavy burden on Don Drysdale, Claude Osteen and Johnny Podres. Tommy Davis must continue his fine spring comeback if the Dodgers are to get enough runs to back up the pitching.

King Is Named Purdue Mentor

LAFAYETTE, Ind. (AP) — George King, a 700 winner at West Virginia, moved into a 500 situation as head basketball coach at Purdue and started assessing Boeltermaker prospects today.

King, 36, former National Basketball Association player who won 102 games and lost 43 in five years as coach of the Mountaineers, was named to succeed Ray Eddy at Purdue Wednesday night.

Eddy stepped out as coach a month ago after 15 seasons, during which the Boeltermakers won 176 games and lost 164. They broke even last season at 12-12 but were only 5-9 in the Big Ten. King said his contract calls for "more than one year," but its duration and his salary were not disclosed. Eddy's salary was $15,000 a year.

VALUABLE—Coach Harold Johnson's Escanaba Eskymos, who will receive their varsity basketball letters at an assembly program Friday morning, have named senior guard Dick Sivertsen their most valuable player... The slick ball handler and defensive whiz was honored earlier with a berth on the All-Upper Peninsula Class A first team, selected by sportswriters of the region at their annual spring meeting.

RECORD—Doug Perttunen, Ishpeming's classy 5 foot 9 inch guard, not only led the Hematites in scoring this season but also paced his mates in the rebounding department with 189... Named most valuable player on the squad, Perttunen scored 388 points this season to boost his four year career total to 1,104, an alltime school record.

TRACK—Coach Bob Wallis of Sault Ste. Marie has six lettermen among his 66 candidates for the Blue Devil squad this season... Heading the list is Bob VanKirk who set a school record in the quarter mile last year with a 53.8 second clocking... He also reached 20 feet 3 inches in the broad jump... Assistant track coach at Soo is Vern Coutant, former Upper Peninsula and Wisconsin Golden Gloves champion.

HONORS—For the second straight year, two players have been selected to share the Michigan-Wisconsin Conference's John J. Kraemer Memorial award as the league's outstanding senior basketball players for the 1964-65 season... Honored were Roger Koski, Wakefield guard, and Rick Khalar, Maple center.

BOWLING—Latest Upper Peninsula kegler to roll a national honor count is Matt Elsiech of Ironwood who spilled a 704 series on games of 279, 225 and 200... Joe Crispigna, 68 year old bowler from Iron Mountain, slammed a 288 game in a 691 series this week... He missed a perfect game by leaving the 6 and 10 pins standing on his 11th toss, then picked up the spare.

CAGERS—At Michigan Tech, Larry Laurich of Marquette has been named to the Northern Intercollegiate Conference honor squad... At Northern, junior center Gene Summers has been selected to the NAIA's annual All-America squad... Duane Soine, 6 foot 5 inch Northern senior, was named to the honorable mention list.

Kaline Shakes Batting Slump

By The Associated Press

For 19 games this spring, the thunder that resides in Al Kaline's bat sounded like a whimper and the notion that the Detroit Tigers might have an outside shot at the American League pennant came out like whistling in the dark.

Kaline, around whom the Tiger attack has revolved ever since he won the batting championship 10 years ago, had been struggling through training with his batting average hovering near .150. And Tiger brass, aware that Kaline had a less than spectacular season last year, were a bit concerned.

The veteran right fielder batted .293, second lowest figure in his career, last year with just 17 homers, a drop of 10 from his 1963 figure. In 19 games this spring he had driven in just three runs and had no homers.

But Al seems to have come alive at last and his awakening came not a moment too soon for acting manager Bob Swift. Kaline's third homer in the last five games helped the Tigers to their 9-4 victory over the New York Mets in a baseball exhibition Wednesday.

"Al's building up for something," Swift said after the game, "and I think it's a great year."

Don Wert and Dick McAuliffe each drove in two runs for the Tigers who completed their Florida training with an 11-13 record.

Reserve infielder Phil Gagliano ripped three hits and drove in three runs as the world champion Cardinals blanked Philadelphia 6-0. Gagliano belted a two-run homer, a triple and a single as St. Louis mounted an 11-hit attack.

In other games, the Chicago Cubs dropped Cleveland 8-5, Pittsburgh stopped Kansas City 4-3, Milwaukee whacked the New York Yankees 4-1, Cincinnati topped Minnesota 5-3, Washington whipped Baltimore 5-2 and Tacoma of the Pacific Coast League squeaked past San Francisco 7-6.

Collins Named Babe Ruth Head

Roland Collins was elected president of the Escanaba Babe Ruth baseball program at an organization meeting held Wednesday.

Collins succeeds Louie Kositzky's as head of the program for boys 13-15 years of age. Jim Hall was re-elected vice president and Paul Vardigan was renamed secretary-treasurer.

After discussion of player safety, officials recommended that boys planning to play in the league purchase shoes with rubber cleats when their present shoes need to be replaced. By 1966 the use of baseball shoes with steel spikes will be eliminated.

Plans were formulated for the 1965 season which will begin early in June.

Tiger Infielders Battle For Positions This Year

Second in a series of three articles on the prospects of the Detroit Tigers for the 1965 season.

By BERNIE KENNEDY
Associated Press Sports Writer

Competition for three positions will make the Detroit Tigers' infield stronger both offensively and defensively in 1965.

Surprisingly, the only position not in question is third base where Don Wert has nailed down the job with his usual display of steady play.

Just one year ago, the Tigers appeared set in every position but third and there was some indication that Jake Wood was not too far from taking the job away from Wert.

Best In League

But Wert won out and went on to rank as the third best fielding third sacker in the league. He made only 15 errors in 424 chances to finish behind New York's Cleve Boyer (13 errors) and Baltimore's Brooks Robinson (14 errors).

The time-worn question of "Who's on First?" can be extended to include second base and shortstop as far as the Tigers are concerned.

Norm Cash and Bill Roman have been waging a tight duel through the spring training session and neither appears to be gaining on the other.

Cash has more experience, has become one of the best fielders in either league and topped the team in runs batted in last year.

Roman is younger, fields the position almost as well and hits lefthanded pitchers better than Cash.

Could Use Both

Interim manager Bob Swift has been toying with the idea of employing an unusual platooning system with Roman playing when the opposition starts a lefthanded pitcher.

Cash hasn't liked the idea of sharing the spot where he has played more than 140 games each season since joining the club. It is a credit to Roman that the former American League batting champion has not been able to clinch the starting assignment.

Should Cash get the nod, Roman will no doubt stay on as the backup man and lefthanded pinch-hitter.

Second baseman Jerry Lumpe expects to see George Smith relieve him in the second game of doubleheaders, in the late innings on hot days and possibly for other short periods.

But it could develop that Smith will take over at second altogether.

Lumpe Slowing Down

Lumpe is the oldest infielder on the team and is slowing down. His .256 batting average last year was his lowest in five years and 13 errors the most in three seasons.

Port Huron Is Series Leader

PORT HURON (AP) — Port Huron shut out Des Moines 6-0 and took a 3-2 edge in their best-of-seven, semifinal series in the International Hockey League Wednesday night.

Flags goalie Norm Jacques scored the first shutout of the playoffs, blocking 23 shots on goal.

Player-coach Lloyd Maxfield and Jerry Moore each hit for two goals to spark the Flags attack. Ken Gribbons and Gry Ross each netted one.

The series moves to Des Moines Friday night for the sixth game.

New Four-Year Board Favors Flint College

LANSING (AP) — The State Board of Education recommended Wednesday that rather than expand the University of Michigan Flint branch, the state should set up a brand new four-year college at Flint and close the branch.

The unanimous board action was in response to a request from the legislature for its views on U-M plans to expand its present junior-senior program at Flint to a four-year operation, starting next year.

Asked whether the recommendation meant the board had taken a policy stand against Branches, Board President Thomas Brennan said: "I think the master plan will make this final determination."

The board suggested allowing the U-M to accept freshmen as planned at Flint next year—but not after that.

The freshmen could be allowed to complete all four years of undergraduate work at the U-M branch, the board suggested, but the branch should close as soon as the new college is operating.

The U-M expansion plans had sparked a controversy in which Gov. George Romney advocated delay until the board had time to work out a master plan for education in Michigan.

Romney aides said the governor would not comment on the board's recommendation until some time today.

U-M President Harlan Hatch responded Wednesday night to the board's position by issuing the following statement: "The State Board of Education is advising the legislature. Their recommendations as indicated in the telegram to me tonight obviously will have many implications which the legislature will want to study. The state board has said that it will issue an early statement setting forth the background and reasoning for its decision. We will be interested in studying that document. In the meantime the matter is before the legislature."

Brennan said the board hoped the legislature would act during the current session to establish the new college.

The board said it should be separate and distinct from the Flint Community College, with which the U-M branch currently shares some facilities.

Behind the Flint controversy was the question of whether college growth is best accomplished by branches of existing schools or by brand new colleges.

A committee of five out-of-state educators recommended against branch institutions in a report to the Michigan College

Coordinating Council.

Brennan said the state board called the committee in for consultation and the committee's advice weighed strongly in the board's decision.

He said, though, "we're not in a position now to make a judgment on any other area than Flint."

Proponents of the Flint expansion held that the issue is much different from other expansion cases, and would provide the state an "incredible bargain."

The Charles Stewart Mott

Foundation of Flint has provided $2.4 million for capital outlay in the expansion.
